ASK CONGRESS TO CURB LEWIS

Then and Now

When Sandra DeLisle came into this world three months prematurely, she weighed only 16½ ounces, was fed (at left) through a medicine dropper, and was constantly watched by doctors and nurses. Today, the day she had been expected to arrive in this world, she has tripled her birth weight and her health is excellent. Her mother, Helen, of Wilmington, visits her in Choate Memorial Hospital, Woburn. (Story on Page 3.)

Mine Owners In New Move

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP) — Fresh developments in the soft coal negotiations were indicated today when government-sponsored conferences were recessed suddenly to permit attendance of all operators at this afternoon's session.

The operators caucused for an hour this morning while the miners' negotiating committee sat by. John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers' president, was absent.

Edward R. Burke, head of the Southern Coal Producers Ass'n, and Charles O'Neill, chairman of the Northern Appalachian group, also were absent. Burke was appearing before the House Judiciary Committee in behalf of a bill to curb imposition by a union of a royalty on the product of an employer.

Such a law, if passed, would strike down Lewis' No. 1 demand —a health and welfare fund for his miners financed by a 10 cents per ton royalty.

Lewis held his own counsel on this maneuver as well as Mr. Truman's warning that the full impact of the strike has only barely begun to be felt.

Some government proposal for ending the 36-day-old strike was expected this week, although whether it will be submitted this afternoon was not known.

Labor Sec. Schwellenbach went into a conference with special conciliators Edward F. McGrady and Paul W. Fuller during the recess.

Meanwhile UNRRA director LaGuardia told reporters after a White House call that the strike had resulted in the reduction of coal shipments to Italy during one week in April from 125,000 to 1500 tons.

He said food shipments have not yet been affected.

Seizure of the mines was not being mentioned seriously among Labor Dept. officials as a likely next step—for the big reason that the government has no assurances the 400,000 idle miners would return to their jobs, even then.

Expected first is some government suggestion of possible compromise proposals.

Cong. Willis Robertson, (D.) of Virginia said that should the strike continue for several more weeks "it will be a disaster second only to a major war."

Cong. Smith, also of Virginia, contended the mine eporators cannot legally accede to Lewis' demands because the national lebor relations act prohibits employers from contributing to the support of unions.

William K. Jackson of Boston, new president of the Chamber of Commerce, supported the legislation introduced by Cong. Robertson and Cong. Smith.

"The kind of levy upon industry proposed by certain union leaders is simply an exaction for the interest of a limited group chargeable to the expense of all," Packson declared.

Arab World Court Plea Seeks to Block British

JERUSALEM, May 6 (INS)—Arab leaders, already looking to Moscow for aid in their fight against increased Jewish immigration into Palestine, were reported ready today to bring suit against Britain before the International Court of Justice.

Local Jerusalem sources said Auni Bey Adul Hadi, Arab party leader, would take the case to the Hague, alleging the British government has been "mishandling" the Palestine policy.

MOSCOW, meanwhile, was a "new Mecca" of the Moslem world as Arab leaders sought Soviet support.

The Arab newspaper Widha said Aref Abdul Razek, former commander of a rebel "native" army in the Holy Land, is already in Moscow. And an Arab spokesman disclosed the Russian minister in Cairo has accepted an invitation by Arab Communists to visit Haifa May 11.

Auni declared Arabs in every corner of Palestine would give the Soviet minister a royal welcome.

Unofficial Arab organizations, openly declared they intend to seek Soviet support in a holy war against the British and American decision to permit 100,000 Jews to enter Palestine.

More than 300 veiled Moslem women who shouted for an immediate outbreak of Arab hostilities rushed a police cordon at Jaffa today.

(Reports from Baghdad said Iraq has called on the Arab League to convene for discussion of the Palestine problem. Political leaders then set May 10 for a general strike to protest enlarged Jewish quotas.)

N. E. Rails to Cut Schedules, Sunday Trains Hit Hardest

The three New England railroads late today or tomorrow will announce time tables scheduling cuts in passenger and freight service under a coal-conserving edict of the Office of Defense Transportation. Local service is to be cut and some trains eliminated.

Meanwhile Stn. Walsh today telegraphed Gov. Tobin he would urge at once that the Solid Fuels Administration freeze at once all biuminous coal now in dock storage in New England. Governors of Massachusetts, Maine, New Hompshire and Rhode Island urged such action.

The Boston & Maine, the Boston & Albany and the New Haven R. R.'s all denied a rumor that Sunday service would be eliminated entirely. It was admitted, however, that cuts might be more severe on Sundays than week-days. Drastic cuts are expected on the New Haven's schedules to New Bedford, Fall River, Taunton and Hyannis.

The New Haven said no curtailment was expected in the Boston-New York shoreline run since trains were diesel-operated to New Haven and electric-operated from New Haven to New York.

The Boston & Albany railroad expected to eliminate some locals west of Boston, but said the effect of the order will be felt most heavily on the Springfield runs.

Meanwhile, Edward F. Barry, state fuel conservator, sought to locate all excess coal piles in Massachusetts. He estimated that between 50,000 and 60,000 tons were idle at plants which had recently reconverted from coal to oil.

Conservator Barry requested Secretary of the Navy James Forrestall to direct that industrial oil now in storage in Navy depots in New England be shared with industry using this type of fuel.

Truman in New Defence Plan

WASHINGTON, May 6 (INS) —President Truman sent a special message to Congress today recommending legislation for a program of military collaboration by the United States with other American states.

The proposal includes training, organization and equipment of the armed forces of those nations.

The legislation would authorize the President to transfer military and naval equipment "to the governments of other American states by sale or other method."

The chief executive said that the measure, to be known as the Inter-American military co-operation act, could also be extended to Canada, "whose co-operation with the United States in matters affecting their common defense is of particular importance."

Youth Is Held In Air Joyride With Girl, 15

James R. O'Brien, Jr., 19-year-old Navy veteran of Green st., Medfield, who landed a plane borrowed Saturday from Wiggin Airport, Norwood, in a field near Manchester, N. H., with a 15-year-old girl companion, pleaded not guilty in Dedham district court today to a charge of larceny and a morals complaint.

Judge Gilbert W. Cox ordered him held in $4000 bail on the morals complaint and $1000 more on the charge of larceny of a plane worth more than $100. He was remanded to Dedham jail to await further hearing Friday.

Young O'Brien, represented by Atty. Frank D. McCarthy of Medfield, waited reading of both complaints and entered pleas of not guilty.

The larceny complaint was brought by Sgt. Patrick J. Coyne of the Norwood police, while the morals charge was lodged by Police Chief Coleman J. Hogan of Medfield.

Present in the courtroom was State Detective William H. Delay, who went to Manchester, N. H., Saturday to bring O'Brien and the girl back to Massachusetts.

O'Brien and the girl landed in the Piper Cub training plane flown from the Norwood air field to the estate of District Court Judge Peter Woodbury of Bedford, N. H., just before noon last Saturday. Several hours earlier the plane was found to be missing from its place at Wiggin Airport.

Discovery that the plane was missing came after police checked the airfield to locate O'Brien when the 15-year-old girl was reported missing. Police knew the couple had been friendly since his recent discharge from the service.

O'Brien, who served in naval aviation, was taking flying lessons at Wiggin Airport under provisions of the GI Bill of Rights.

War Not as Hard As His Marriage, Sailor Pleads

Walter R. Gillis, 39, of Bridge st., Salem, got hit plenty during Navy action in the European theater but the blows he got at home were even tougher, according to his testimony today in seeking divorce in probate court at Salem. He charged Helen C. Gillis with cruelty.

Gillis, who has been in the Navy since 1942, testified he was sent home with combat fatigue after his ship was sunk in action off Salerno, Italy, in September, 1944. It was then, he said, his wife attacked him with a knife and on one occasion pushed him so he fell against a bathtub, and was knocked unconscious. He also said his wife brought drunken male companions into their home.

Judge John A. Costello took the petition under advisement and took similar action in the suit of Robert E. Broyer, 28, of Robinson, st., Salem, who charged his wife, Marion T. Broyer, with cruelty. He testified while he was in the Army overseas she wrote him she had fallen in love with someone else and that he better get a divorce. Neither wife contested.

1-Pound Baby Triples Weight on 'Birthday'

By ALICE BISSELL

Delightful, delovely baby DeLisle—heroine in medical history—by every law of nature should be drawing her first breath today. May 6 was the date predicted by physicians for little Sandra to be born at Choate Memorial Hospital, Woburn, to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph DeLisle of Beacon st., Wilmington. Instead, she was hungry for life, and on Feb. 3 was born prematurely, weighing only 16½ oz. There was hardly a chance that the baby, whose eyes were not even opened, could survive. There were no records to show that such a tiny body ever before had strength to fight for life.

But Sandra DeLisle lived. Nurses watched over her incubator every moment during the first month. She was fed by mothers' milk through a medicine dropper and, until April 14th, by clysis, nourishment injected under the skin.

Mrs. Helen DeLisle

On March 4 and a week later her strength failing, she was given blood transfusions. On April 20 she began to gain, and since then has gained an ounce a day.

"How fat she is!" her mother rejoiced today as she was told Sandra had gone up to 3 lb. 6½ oz. The baby now dines on an ounce and a half of high protein formula every two hours, and doctors say her health is excellent.

After seeing her child hover between life and death so long, Mrs. DeLisle is perhaps the happiest mother alive.

"My husband has been gone for four months with the Merchant Marine. I visit the baby every Saturday and spend the rest of the day writing to him and telling him about Sandra," she said.

"I can fill pages. Because a little cry, a little whimper, or the way her head falls to one side is so much to be thankful for and all that I have to live for."

Lynn Woman Killed In Fall from Auto

Mrs. Lillian Kane, 25, a waitress, of Cedar st., Lynn, was killed today when she toppled from an automobile while friends were driving her home from a cafe party in Lynn.

The victim plunged from the machine in Parkland ave. after the driver, John J. Fenton, 21, of Blanchard st., Lynn, had sideswiped a telephone pole, springing the door where she was sitting.

Fenton rushed her to City Hospital where doctors pronounced her dead from a fractured skull.

Mrs. Camille Casey, 19, of Cedar st., Lynn, a companion, told police they were walking home when Fenton and three other youths offered them a ride.

She said they had been at a Central sq. cafe with her husband, who left the party earlier.

William Kane, the dead girl's husband, identified the body at the hospital. He asked news of the death be kept from the victim's mother, Mrs. Patroclos Hadjimitrou, seriously ill at the same hospital.

Fliers Fight to Keep Logan Base for Guard

Spokesmen for indignant former Army pilots charged today creation of a National Guard air wing, which the Army wants as a trained and nucleus in case of any emergency, was being jeopardized by civilian opposition. The protests were made by Roger Wade, 23, of Longwood ter., Back Bay; Evan P. Koutrouba, 26, of Bancroft, st., Roxbury, and Gene Blevins, 26, of Marie ave., Everett. Wade and Koutrouba were combat bomber pilots in the Eighth Air Force while Blevins was an instructor.

They said approximately 300 experienced Air Force veterans would be denied an opportunity to serve adequately in the National Guard if legislation now being considered in the Committee on Aeronautics is passed by the Legislature.

The measure, recommending transfer of the present National Guard hangar at the airport to the Public Works Department, has been held up in the committee because of the vigorous opposition stirred up by the National Guard.

The proposal was made by a special commission on avitation to provide further facilities for commercial flying.

"All the former Air Forces men want an opportunity to place their experience at the disposal of the State," Wade said. "The army wants us activated by July. We want to serve. But there will be no flying wing of the National Guard at East Boston if they take the building away from us."

The three fliers said the danger of losing the proposed air wing here should be a matter of public concern, inasmuch as millions of public money it tied up in the airport.

Their plans, which have been discussed with Col. Louis Boutwell, National Guard head here, call for a wing to include a full complement of radar operators, flight control specialists and technicians in general, as well as pilots.

"The Army has approved the move," said Koutrouba and Blevins. "It is ready to give us the planes and other equipment. We have the experience—which the public paid for. We want to keep our hands in. But the Army will not set us up at East Boston if we lose the administration building. It is an essential part of the required equipment."

The former pilots said commercial airline spokesmen did not want any military flying at the airport on premises there was no room for it.

"There's about one-half as much traffic there now as there was before the war," protested Wade. "And we don't need as much room as some people think," said Koutrouba. "We proved that with the bombers on European runways."

"And we could do a good job of coastal defense work right here," said Blevins.

Court Urges Divorce Law Change for Vets

A change in the present divorce law to protect Bay State residents who, while in the service married out of state and never lived here with their mates, was recommended today by Judge John V. Mahoney in Suffolk Probate Court.

Judge Mahoney made his comment on hearing the petition of Henry Cabit of Nazing st., Roxbury, seeking a divorce on grounds of cruelty from Mrs. Mary K. Cabit of Indianapolis.

Cabit told the court he was married at Bayonne, N. J., in June, 1943, and had lived with his wife at various Army camps but that they had never lived in Massachusetts.

The court ruled Massachusetts courts had no prisdiction.

Cabit told Judge Mahoney his wife was living with somebody else and handed the court a letter. Judge Mahoney said:

"I wish I could grant you a divorce, but under the present divorce laws I cannot."

The court alsoheld up the divorce petition of John M. Pylypink of Hebron st., Mattapan, saying proper grounds were not listed in the suit.

Pylypink sought a divorce from Norma Pylypink on grounds of cruelty, but testified to acts of intoxication, charging his wife stayed out nights and mentioned a soldier with whom, he said, his wife was keeping company.

"There is no place for chivalry in the court room," Judge Mahoney said. "You allege cruel and abusive treatment and all I have heard is evidence of gross and confirmed habits of intoxication."

The judge, saying too many persons seek to hide the real cause for their marital trouble, orderd the divorce continued until the suit is amended.

Hub Police Tackle Candidate's Kidnap

Boston police today for the first time joined the investigation of charges made by Thomas J. L. McDonough, of Dorchester, that he was kidnaped last Thursday and forced under threat of death to withdraw his candidacy for the governor's council in the fourth district.

Lt. James V. Crowley disclosed that he had questioned Miss Mary Irene Morris, McDonough's landlady, who said she, too, had been threatened at her Rossiter st., Dorchester, home. Boston police now have a statement signed by the latter in which she told of trying to stop the abduction.

McDonough complained he was dragged from his home and threatened with death if he did not sign withdrawal papers. They were later filed by Rep. Dennis P. Glynn, Roxbury Democrat, who reported "someone gave the slip to me."

At the same time, Maurice Goldman, McDonough's attorney, appeared at the state ballot law commission to learn when a hearing will be held on his client's petition that his name stay on the ballot. Members of the commission said they would take up the case sometime next week.

Police Commr. Thomas Sullivan, in a statement today, explained who a Boston police officer was not at the state ballot law commission office to take the McDonough withdrawal as had been requested.

Sullivan said Boston police appear at the State House only when called in by the Governor.

M'Cormack Gives Nod to Putnam

The candidacy of Springfield's former Mayor Roger L. Putnam for the Democratic nomination as lieutenant governor was today given the "wholehearted and unqualified" support of Cong. John W. McCormack, House majority leader.

The announcement was made at the Putnam campaign headquarters which were opened today at Hotel Touraine. Atty. Bernard J. Killion of Boston will serve as Putnam's campaign manager.

McCormack said that the former Springfield mayor was a "progressive, thinking business man" and that, being from the western part of the State, he would give balance to the Democratic ticket.

Urge Ban on Land Tax Exemption

Legislation to abolish the local tax exemption on lands taken by eminent domain for use by public utilities corporations was favored by State Tax Comr. Henry F. Long today at a hearing before the committee on municipal finance. Otherwise, Long said the revenue and borrowing capacity of many local communities would be seriously affected.

The proposal would upset a ruling by the State Appeleate Tax Board that public utilties were not liable to local taxation on land taken by eminent domain for their use.

Atty. James E. Kelleher, representing the city of Boston, said the Board's decision last year was based on an appeal by the Boston Elevated Railway from taxes imposed from 1939 through 1942.

Willis E. Downey, legislative counsel for the Elevated, was recorded in opposition to the proposal.

Bill to Retire State Aides at 70 Opposed

Legislation requiring appointive state officials to retire at the age of 70 was reported unfavorably today by the joint ways and means committee of the General Court.

During hearings on the bill it was brought out that passage of this legislation would force retirement of James T. Moriarty, commissioner of labor and industries, and Charles H. Cole, chairman of the state board of conciliation and arbitration.

Wage Pact Averts Strike In Bethlehem Shipyards

A strike of thousands of shipworkers at the Fore River and East Boston yards of the Bethlehem Steel Co., scheduled for tomorrow at midnight, was averted today when an agreement between management and a CIO union was reached in New York. Terms of the settlement provide a wage increase of 18 cents an hour to 35,000 workers in all East Coast shipyards of the Bethlehem Co., retroactive to last Dec. 4 at the Fore River yard in Quincy and at others in New York and Maryland. At all other yards, including the one in East Boston, the wage increase was made retroactive to last March 11.

Left pending was the union's claim that all wage increases should be retroactive to Dec. 4, 1945.

Attending the New York settlement were Charles Palmer and Lawrence Parish, officials of Local 5 of the Industrial Union of Marine Shipbuilding Workers of America, CIO, who announced a meeting would be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in Quincy municipal stadium. The agreement with the management is to be raftified at that time.

Further details of the settlement were not immediately divulged.

In a joint statement released this morning in New York, union officials announced that:

"The union's claim that the company should pay the increase retroactively to Dec. 4 at the other Bethlehem Yards was reserved without prejudice to either side because the question of reimbursement of costs of the wage increase retroactive to Dec. 4th at those yards has not yet been settled."

Other yards affected are Baltimore, Sparrows Point, Md.; Hoboken, N. J., and Brooklyn, N. Y.

Present wages paid Bethlehem workers range from 84 cents an hour for laborers to $1.20 for skilled workers.

"In view of the agreement, there will be no strike, while the officers of the union had been empowered to call," the statement added.

Police One Day In Six Vetoed

Mayor Curley sent to the City Council today his veto on a measure which would grant Boston police oficers one day off in six instead of the present one day off in seven.

"I am advised," the mayor said, "that approximately 60 additional men would be required if this measure was approved, which would mean an initial appropriation of $120,000 for salaries; $12,000 for uniforms and equipment and an ultimate salary appropriation of $150,000.

"Much as I would like to, in the light of the city's financial condition, I would not be justified at this time in approving the additional expense involved. My position is consistent with my veto of the proposal for shortening the working hours of firemen of Boston."

Dorchester Veterans Freed For Softball in Schoolyard

Charges of trespassing against 10 Dorchester youths, nine of them Army, Navy or marine veterans, for playing softball Saturday in the yard of the Woodrow Wilson School, were dismissed today by Judge William G. Lynch in Dorchester district court.

Similar action will be taken in the juvenile session tomorrow in the case of a 14-year-old boy who was playing with them.

Friends, civic officials and representatives of veteran oganizations appeared in court to defend the young men and criticize the school committee and park department for the "misunderstanding" which led to the arrests.

Superior Civil Court Clerk Thomas Dorgan told Judge Lynch he planned to appear before the school committee and request rescending of the ban on using school yards for softball games.

Councilor William Keenan of Dorchester declared they were better off playing in a school yard than in barrooms, and Councilor Thomas Hannon, Dorchester, criticized the park department and recreational department for failing to keep the city's playgrounds in better condition for athletics.

Those arrested were organizing a softball team to represent a new American Legion post named after William. "Red" Walsh, Congressional Medal of Honor winner who was killed in action. Application for the post's charter has been accepted by the Legion, according to Ralph Hall, finance officer of Roberts Post of the Legion.

Sailor's Non-Citizen Claim Rejected; Held as Deserter

With a pretty WAVE serving as interpreter, Henri-Louis Simard, a navy sailor, was turned over to Navy authorities as a deserter today during a hearing before Judge Charles E. WyZanski in Federal Court.

The interpreter was Irene D. Delarge of Methuen, second class yeoman, who relayed questions and answers during a lengthy hearing on Simard's petition for a writ of habeas corpus against Navy Capt. Albert M. van Eaton. The sailor alleged he was being held wrongfully at the Fargo barracks.

Simard said he was born in Woburn, Canada, although his father was a native of Manchester, N. H. He said he never had taken an oath as a Navy man when he was inducted at Portland, Me., in March 1944.

He said he did not understand the English language and that he had registered for the draft because friends told him he should. At that time he was working on a farm at Lewiston.

Judge Wyzanski ruled Simard is and always has been a citizen of the United States and comes within the powers of the Selective Service Act.

Unarmed Veteran Routs 5 Gunmen

CAMDEN, N. J., May 6 (AP)—A veteran of Leyte and Okinawa braved sawed-off shotguns in the hands of five masked robbers early today and thwarted a $4000 holdup.

When the robbers entered Ole's Ranch near Berlin, Ole Larson, the proprietor, dashed into a rear office with a bag containing the $4000.

Two of the thugs started after Larson, when they were confronted by the veteran, Edward Dwyer. Dwyer refused to move, despite the menacing shotguns, saying:

"Go on, get out of here, you guys haven't got the guts to shoot."

They tried to brush Dwyer aside with the muzzles of their guns but he stood his ground. Finally, unnerved, the gunmen fled.

Scientist's Last Test Is Suicide

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP)—Dr. Murray C. McNab, 38-year-old research chemist, moved about his laboratory preparing an experiment. Then he wrote:

"This is my last experiment, and it is self-destruction."

He was found dead in a gas-filled experiment chamber, where city gas was running through concentrated sulphuric acid.

"I feel that the only method of dying without pain is to use carbon monoxide," he wrote. "To get a supply I am passing city gas through concentrated sulphuric acid to delete the mercaptan odor."

McNab, born in Ontario, lived in Cranford, N. J. until this year he had been a professor at Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Ontario.

President to Spend Birthday at Work

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—President Truman will spend his 62nd birthday Wednesday working as usual, his press secretary, Charles G. Ross said today.

Ross told a news conference he knew of no plans for any special observance by the President.

Bikini Transformed For 'A' Bomb Test

BIKINI, May 6 (AP)—This little coral atoll is being transformed rapidly into a huge scientific laboratory.

Seabee bulldozers have ripped and torn their way over the island, clearing roadways. Trees have been uprooted. Thatched huts have either been torn down or are being used to store supplies.

Bikini liiks like an atoll in wartime two days after American forces made an assault landing; assault techniques are being used to get the tstuff ashore. LST's (Landing ships tanks) are tied up to floating piers, or are on the beach.

Roads and installations are being built, amphibious ducks, concrete mixers, stone crushing machinery and hugh stockpiles of supplies are scattered among the palms.

Some 40,000 Army and Navy men will be in this area during the operation.

One of the biggest projects has been to build 12 steel towers and bombproof steel vaults with concrete bases for housing electric power plants.

The towers rise 75 feet above concrete piles sunk deep into the atoll's sand—towers which will house the cameras, television and radar equipment for recording the explosion of an atomic bomb.

The power plant vaults are each 20 feet square, built three feet above the floor of th island and constructed so a tidal wave created by the explosion will not drown out the generators.

Five of the towers have been built on Bikini, four on Aomoen, near Bikini, and three on the island of Enyu, five miles southward.

Butter Probers To Hear Experts

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—The House committee investigating food shortages took up the butter problem today.

The group of farm state lawmakers who make up the special committee called stabilization chief Chester Bowles, OPA boss Paul Porter and Agriculture Sec. Clinton P. Anderson to Capitol Hill for an airing of their own and Congressional views on price and other controls over dairy products.

Chairman Pace (D.) of Georgia told a reporter "We intend to work out a program which not only will relieve present shortages, but establish the dairy industry on a sound, long-range basis."

Man Hurt in Fall From Moving Cab

WORCESTER, May 6—Andrew Donahue, 44, of Baltimore, Md., was in critical condition at City Hospital today after tumbling from a moving taxicab. He suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Thomas K. Kelly of Ridgewood st., the taxi driver, said the victim hailed him, claiming to be followed by two men who wanted his money. On Shrewsbury st., Kelley said, Donahue opened the door and stepping from the moving vehicle.

UN Referendum On Veto Looms

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP)—Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, said today unless the Security Council eventually was able to agree on the veto question the issue might have to be tossed back to the 51 United Nations in the form of a charter amendment.

Lie, speaking at a press conference, confirmed reports the Security Council's procedure experts were deadlocked on the veto question, which he said must have the unanimous agreement of the big five powers for settlement.

Kennedy Aims at Serving Nation in Peace as in War

His belief that Americans who were old enough to serve the nation in war should continue to serve it in the years of peace is given by John F. Kennedy, 29, son of former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, as his main reason for being a candidate for the Congressional seat now held by Mayor Curley.

Kennedy, student of government and of local and world problems, who, as a news correspondent, covered the San Francisco Conference, last year's general election in Britain, and the Potsdam Conference, is seeking the Democratic nomination in the 11th Congressional District at the June 18 primaries.

His determination to serve his country in peace as honorably as in war was born, he said, many months ago in the far Pacific when ships were sinking and young Americans were dying. At that time, young Kennedy was in command of a PT boat and on the eve of heroic achievement.

"The war cost so much in personal suffering," he said, "in economic waste, in physical devastation and ruin, that it brought to nearly everyone who faced it a determination that it should not happen again. This resulted in my firm conviction that I would continue to serve my country in the years of peace to the utmost of my ability.

"These days ahead will require public service of the very highest type. For our main objective must be peace and to attain it I intend to devote my every effort.

"With this firm determination to work for peace, we must not lose sight of the problems created by the two great struggles which have tortured this country since 1914. Not only are veterans faced with a housing problem, but for many others in this district the housing situation is acute.

"Certainly we must provide a decent place for families to live and children to grow. I shall do everything in my power to see that the people of the district get the housing they deserve.

"Private industry, which made such startling contributions to success of World War II, must also be encouraged and permitted to function. It must expand and develop so that it can provide the goods we so desperately need. And it must expand to the point where it can provide jobs for all.

"Once the nation looked to Boston as the leading port in this vast continent. I will do my best in Washington to see that the great heart of this district, the port, is built again to its former greatness. With all these problems, there is a tremendous job to be done by the next representative to Washington from the 11th Congressional District."

Young Kennedy has a stable background for his political aspirations. His connection with the district goes back more than 100 years and the roots of his ancestry are deep in the ground of East Boston. One grandfather, the famed ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, represented the district in Congress more than half a century ago.

The other grandfather, the late Patrick J. Kennedy, represented part of the district in the Massachusetts House and Senate. An elder brother, the late Lt. Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr., lost in the war, represented Cambridge as a delegate to the 1940 Democratic National Convention.

Reich Firemen Amateurs, Says Hub Captain

By HAL BOYLE

COBURG, Germany, May 6 (AP)—Teutonic efficiency gets in its own way when it comes to puting out fires.

Such is the opinion of Capt. Frank Norton of 8 Ware st., Boston, Mass., attorney.

As military government public safety officer of the Coburg district of Landkreis, Norton is responsible for fire and police protection.

"The German fire departments work just like the German army," said the captain. "The fire chief must first enter the burning building and estimate the situation before they start throwing any water.

"When he has figureed out the percentage of fire and smoke, they get busy. They usually manage to save the basement.

"The professional firemen here couldn't get jobs as amateurs back home."

Capt. Frank Norton enlisted in the Army as a private in April, 1942, and has served in the European and Pacific theaters of operations and with the Army in the Hudson's bay area of Canada.

He was an executive with the labor division of WPA before entering the service. His wife, Mrs. Frank Norton, and their two children, Mary Lou, 2, and John Francis, six months, live in Laurel, Md. Capt. Norton's father was the late Michael J. Norton, a captain in the Fire Prevention Bureau. His mother is Mrs. Hannah Norton and his sister Miss Anna C. Norton.

Thrill for Kiddies

NEW YORK, May 6 (INS)—Thousands of children will cheer the statement of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce that the world's supply of castor oil is threatened.

The newspaper said large stocks of castor beans, scarce in this country, are being held in the interior of Brazil because of lack of railroad facilities.

Meanwhile, planters, discouraged by the slow demand for beans, expect to reduce acreage next year.

"I wasn't ALWAYS hard to please—I married YOU, didn't I?"

Laurel Weds, but Who Is She?

YUMA, Ariz., May 6 (AP)—Comedian Stan Laurel was married today to Ida Kitaeva Raphael in the home of Peace Justice R. H. Lutes.

Lutes said the blonde woman, who gave her age as 39 and her birthplace as Russia, did not further identify herself. Her description resembled that of Laurel's third wife, Vera Ivanova Shuvalova, Russian dancer known as Illiana, from whom he was divorced in 1939.

Laurel was divorced last April 30 from Virginia Ruth Laurel, whom he first married in 1934. Ruth and Stan were divorced in 1936 and remarried in 1941. Laurel's first wife was Lois Neilson, from whom he was divorced in 1933.

Home Garden Forum

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head of the Vegetable Gardening Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School.

Q—Does it hurt tomato plants to let them wilt before setting them out?

A—Allowing tomato plants to wilt does not seem to do any real harm. Some growers feel that this practice stimulates new root growth. Do not expose the roots to the air however, in transplanting.

Q—What effect will oil sprays that are being used to control weeds have on the soil?

A—The volatile oils commonly used should not have any effect on the soil as they evaporate soon after use. Heavy fuel oils stay in the soil and may do some damage if used too often.

Q—What temperatures are best for successful germination of begonia seed?

A—The best temperature is about 70 deg. F. Soil should be light and sandy for best results.

Q—Is it necessary to put brush or a frame under the compost heap to allow for air circulation?

A—It is just as well to build heap right on the ground. Brush does not rot fast and bothers when you try to turn the pile over. Corn stalks can be used and will decay in one season.

Q—Can strawberries be grown from seed?

A—Strawberry plants grown from seed will not be true to type and may be poor quality. Unless you want to experiment, I would suggest that you stick to the standard method of using runners.

Q—What variety of strawberries will do well in this area?

A—Would suggest that you try Sparkle, a new variety that has done well for some gardeners.

Q—Is nitrate of soda good for lettuce?

A—As lettuce is a leafy vegetable it will respond to an application of nitrate of soda.

Ross Denies Baby Hit-Run Guilt

Joseph Ross, 75, of Temple st., Boston, today pleadel not guilty, in Chelsea District Court to the charge of being the driver of a hit-run car which struck a carriage with a baby in it while being wheeled by a young Chelsea mother across Bellingham sq.

He was held in bonds of $250 for a hearing on May 16. Ross had given himself up to Chelsea police Saturday night after learning they were trying to find him all day.

Mrs. Eva Timmerman of Washington st., Chelsea, the mother, identified Ross as the driver. She told police the car struck the front end of the carriage and sped away. She was able to get the registration number, she told police.

Palestine Gives U. S. New Foreign Worry

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND

Dean of American Foreign Correspondents

Written Expressly for the Hearst Newspapers

NEW YORK, May 6—First repercussions from the report of the Anglo-American Palestine commission reveal how, ever more deeply, we are becoming involved in foreign entanglements.

After we had for months been telling Britain what to do about the difficult Palestine Jewish-Arab problem and how to do it, the British government suddenly turned and "called" the flow of advice from Washington by asking that a joint Anglo-American commission make a thorough investigation on the ground.

The commission has now made a report.

It has aroused a storm in the Moslem world, with threats of a holy war and hostilities against the Jews.

The commission has caused almost as great dissatisfaction among the Jews as among the Arabs.

The report straddles the issue.

It has infuriated the Arabs by recommending that 100,000 Jewish refugees from Europe be allowed to migrate to Palestine as soon as possible.

It has angered the Jews by not recommending that Palestine shall become a Jewish national state.

With every prospect of much trouble with the more than 200,000,000 Arabs and other Moslems, about 80 per cent of whom are in Egypt, the Near and Middle East, India, and other regions of British spheres of influence, Prime Minister Attlee has flatly announced Britain will not carry out the commission's recommendation unless and until America comes in, accepts her share of responsibility of what may follow and, among other things, sends American troops to Palestine.

In effect Mr. Attlee quite logically says that giving insistent advice to other nations on how to settle their problems involves the shouldering of corresponding responsibility.

To request Washington to join in an investigation of the Palestine problem was a very clever move by Prime Minister Attlee.

In Chungking, Gen. Marshall, military ambassador to China in place of a career diplomat, kicked the props from under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek by his insistence on far reaching concessions to the Chinese Communists.

IN EFFECT, PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S SPECIAL ENVOY WAS HAVING AMERICA FURTHER THE INTERESTS, INFLUENCE AND POWER OF RUSSIA, RATHER THAN THE INTERESTS OF CHINA AND OF AMERICA.

The widely proclaimed unity of China that Gen. Marshall was credited with having achieved turned out what I said it would be, a Chinese truce.

There is now civil war in full swing in northern China, and Manchuria is in a fair way of becoming a second Outer Mongolia affiliated with the Soviet Union. Private advices I have had from china say a strong anti-American feeling is flaring up.

If we comply with Prime Minister Attlee's demand that responsibility must go with advice, and that we must share the burden with the British people, it will be a concrete step in the direction of a confederation of America and the British Commonwealth.

"Broadway's Voice," by Dorothy Kilgallen, daily in the Boston American.

Champ Orator Off On 1st Day of Tour

By BERT FORD

The nation's champion high school student orator, William G. Ehler, 18, of De La Salle Academy, Chicago, left last night for Washington, D. C., his first stopover on a trip of dramatic and historic interest, from Boston to New Orleans.

This trip, along with a $1000 Victory Pond, is Ehler's award as winner of the national finals in the 1946 Hearst Newspapers National Oratorical Contest: "Andrew Jackson, Seventh President of the United States."

In Washington today, Ehler will be joined by his 14-year-old brother, Jerry Ehler, who is flying from Chicago with a newspaper representative of the Chicago Herald-American and will make the trip with "Big Bill." Also accompanying the party will be the writer and director of this contest.

The winner in the college group, Robert Finch, 20, of Los Angeles, a former lieutenant in the Marine Corps now completing his education at Occidental College, Los Angeles, was prevented from making the trip because of pressure of his college courses.

Finch, a bridegroom of three months, and whose attractive young bride, Mrs. Carol Finch, accompanied him here from Los Angeles to share in his oratorical triumph, left by plane Saturday night with Mrs. Finch and arrived at his home yesterday. A hearty demonstration of welcome awaits him today from officials of his college and fellow-students.

For young Ehler, the tour from Boston to New Orleans through the country where Andrew Jackson spent the most colorful and dramatic years of his career will start, following reunion with his brother at the Hotel Mayflower in Washington, with a visit to the Capitol and the White House, and the champion will be greeted by Congressmen and Senators from his native state of Illinois.

From Washington the party will continue to Williamsburg, Va., with visits to famed battlegrounds of the Revolution; to Charlotte, N. C., and a tour of the birthplace of Andrew Jackson; to Atlanta, Ga., and then to Nashville, for a full day of sightseeing which will include a visit to "The Hermitage," Jackson's beloved home where he retired.

Seek Letendre Aide in Hub Area

WOONSOCKET, R. I., May 6—Search for a close friend and associate of the slain John F. "Big Jack" Letendre, racetrack director, gambler and politician, extended to Cambridge, Mass., today, following reports the missing associate had been seen there.

The missing man, officials claim, not only can assist police investigation of the Letendre murder, but also ought to be able to aid in locating hidden assets of the slain director, including some 40,000 shares of Narragansett Park racing stock having a present valuation of $1,200,000.

Mrs. Muriel Nunes, 26, and her husband, Roger, 28, of Shawmut ave., South End, escaped jail sentences in municipal court today after promises to Judge Elijah Adlow that they would get out of Boston at once and return to their home city at Scranton, Pa.

Mrs. Nunes, a red-head, had been found guilty of being idle and disorderly and larceny of $10 from a Navy flight engineer, Mitzie Minkos of Chicopee Falls.

Nunes, accused of living by his wife's illegal earnings, was termed a moral bankrupt by Judge Adlow.

TOKYO, May 6 (AP)—The whole world food situation would be greatly helped, Herbert Hoover said today, "if Russia would release to China and Korea a part of the foodstuffs they have secured in Manchuria."

The former President and chairman of President Truman's emergency famine committee made the assertion in a formal statement which began:

"Japan must have some food imports. Without them, all Japan will be on a ration little better than that which the Germans gave to Buchenwald and Belsen concentration camps.

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Q—I am a veteran who would like to know how to obtain my certificate of naturalization issued to me while in the Army. I did not get it at the time I was discharged. E. H. F., Lowell, Mass.

A—As all records of discharged military personnel are filed with Demobilized Personnel Records Branch, Records Adjustment Center, AGO, 4300 Goodfellow Blvd., St. Louis, Mo., you may request that search be made of your service record and that the certificate, if filed therewith, be forwarded to you.

Q—I am a veteran of World War II with a service-connected pension. Is it necessary for me to go to a Veterans' Administration Facility for a check-up? I have heard that I will lose my pension while I am there. I am single but have two dependent parents. V. S., Waltham.

A—If you can prove the dependency of your parents with the Veterans' Administration your pension will not be cut. Otherwise, it would be lowered to $20 per month for a service-connected disability and $8 per month for a non-service-connected disability.

Q—I lost my discharge button. How can I get another one? L. S., Ogunquit, Me.

A—You may obtain another discharge button at any local Army recruiting office or the post recruiting office of any Army installation. There is a charge of 10 cents for a duplicate button and you must present your original discharge certificate.

Q—Where may I write for the home address of a soldier who has returned to this country? R. E., Mattapoisett, Mass.

A—It is the policy of the Adjutant General's Office to furnish information of this type only to members of the serviceman's immediate family. You may write to the Adjutant General's Office, Munitions Bldg., Washington 25, D. C., giving the serviceman's full name, rank, and Army serial number, your relationship to the soldier and the reason for your request, and possibly that office will assist you.

Q—Does the 24-month regulation for discharge of officers apply to all officers? V. E. G., Providence.

A—Yes, with the exception of Regular Army officers, volunteers, medical officers, and officers in certain scarce categories.

Q—How may I obtain the address of a former serviceman who was in the Navy? S. P. H., Concord, N. H.

A—Inquiries concerning former naval personnel should be addressed to First Naval District, 150 Causeway street, Boston. Attention: Civil Readjustment Officer.

His Pal's Dead

A few hours befor this dramatic picture was mde, 5-year-old Johnny Concin was the happiest boy in Broklyn. The joy of having a w pet—a dog—pleased im greatly. Then, tragedy struc. The boy's dog ran into the stret in front of an auto . . . and was struck. Here, torn with grief, Johnny carries his dead pet to his home.

Destroyed

Flames which swept through the Columbia River Valley village of Underwood, Wash., ravage one of the larger buildings in the town. The blaze burned out 30 families, most of whom fled to homes in near-by communities. There were no reports of injuries. Firemen said totally damaged properties were valued at about $100,000.

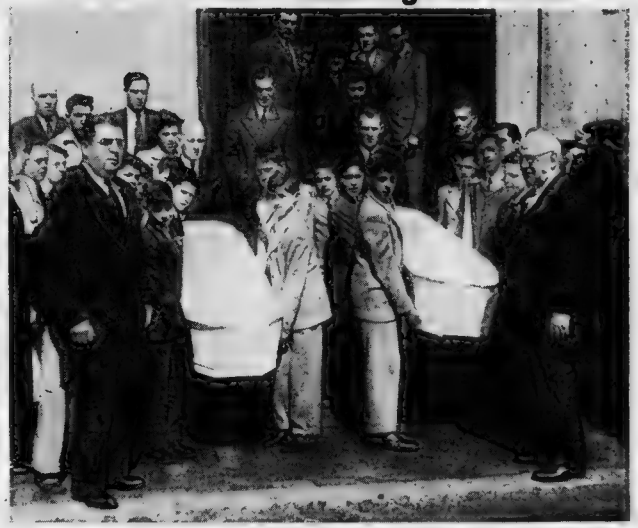
Last Rites for Cambridge Brothers



INP by Edwin Bitzhan

Fire Victims—Caskets containing the bodies of Kenneth, 10, and Lawrence Francis, 9, Cambridge brothers who perished in a flash fire in their Cambridge st. home, are carried by schoolmates from St. Anthony's Church following funeral services. The boys' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Francis, follow the young pallbearers.

Last Experiment—Dr. Murray C. McNab, 38-year-old research chemist of Cranford, N. J., lies sprawled on a laboratory table in the New York plant where he was employed . . . a suicide. Near him in the gas-filled chamber was a note saying: "This is my last experiment and it is self-destruction."

HOUSE VOTES ON GARAGE

TODAY the Massachusetts House of Representatives will vote on legislation for the necessary garage under Boston Common, the first of many important projects which can be built by private enterprise, without cost to the taxpayers, in the city and State.

We are confident that the representatives will encourage private enterprise.

We are convinced that they will permit the garage to be built with a minimum of delay and red tape.

We know that they are sincere in their wish to give the people this essential project, which is the key to the solution of the Boston traffic problem, the worst in the country.

We are therefore certain that the Representatives will reject the harmful restrictions and restraints in the so-called Shattuck amendment to the garage bill.

Infinitely better and more businesslike is the ORIGINAL BILL which was written by the highly reputable Committee on Cities and passed unanimously by the Senate.

That bill was designed TO PERMIT THE GARAGE TO BE BUILT.

It was not designed to place the kiss of death on the garage.

LET'S BE FAIR

HARVARD UNIVERSITY has leased the 72-year-old Hotel Brunswick in Boylston st., Boston, and will operate this famous hostelry as a dormitory for war veterans and their families.

Needless to say, it will be easily filled with former servicemen anxious to obtain an education under the GI Bill of Rights.

Harvard would make many new friends if it restricted the Brunswick and other temporary housing facilities to Massachusetts and New England veterans.

Of course, men from all parts of the world want to attend Harvard, as their fathers and grandfathers have done.

But there is no reason why they should have preference over the sons of Massachusetts and New England.

Massachusetts law permits Harvard to exist.

Massachusetts tax exemptions sustain Harvard.

Massachusetts public services, including highways and sanitation projects, make Harvard accessible and livable.

All these things cost millions of dollars, and THE TAXPAYERS OF MASSACHUSETTS PROVIDE THE MILLIONS.

Wherefore it is neither right nor just for a young man from Japan or some other distant land to be enjoying the privileges and benefits of Harvard while a Massachusetts son, whose parents help to pay Harvard's bills, is walking the streets, vainly trying to get a Harvard education.

JUST PROTEST

VETERANS "are getting the run-around in purchases of surplus property" through the red tape of government forms, while dealers with influential friends can purchase as many as a hundred trucks at a time and sell them "at a whacking profit" to veterans.

That is the charge of State Adjutant Coleman C. Curran of the American Legion.

Furthermore, says Mr. Curran, "it is utterly ridiculous to force veterans to fill out a two-page form that even a Philadelphia lawyer would have trouble with."

Our New England Senators and Representatives in Washington should look into this situation.

They are sufficient in number and power to remedy it in 24 hours.

If the Federal Government has any bargains to offer, it should make them available to the lads who fought and won the war.

Had the lads been less valorous and successful, there might not be any bargains for anybody, least of all for those who seem to be profiteering at the expense of the veterans.

We are always suspicious of laws and regulations that bristle with curbs and prohibitions.

I dye my hair, but not
As you have said
To heap youth's follies
On an aging head.
In time of grief
One dons sober black
And I'm in mourning
Since my youth is dead.

—RUDAGL

WHEN YOU arise you are weakest. After breakfast your strength gradually increases until 2 p. m., at which time you are at the peak. From then on your strength begins to wane until after breakfast the next day. So states a man of science. He is right as far as I am concerned. Right after breakfast is when I can always get the most accomplished, in the least time. I must call the claim of this man of science to my girl friend's attention. She claims the reason I can work so fast right after breakfast is because I am afraid I might miss the first race.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS? Q—Do you remember the cartoon strip "Hogan's Alley?" Who was the artist? A—I recall the strip you mention only dimly. The artist was Richard Outcault. However, I well remember Mr. Outcault's "Buster Brown and Tige" strip. Q—What do you think of a fellow, 6 feet, 2 inches tall who has nothing but a glass of orange juice and a slice of toast for breakfast? A—I do not care to judge such a man too hastily. Maybe he has dyspepsia. Perhaps he eats a large lunch. He might be saving up to get married and not want to spend too much for breakfast. Anyway, it has been said by a very wise man: "Only he who eats a good breakfast will make a good husband."

NAMING THE BABY: A Londoner named Zachary Crofton decided that all his male offspring should have names beginning with Z. He had four sons named Zachary, Zareton, Zephaniah and Zelophead. I am glad my papa had not set ideas on names for his children.

PASSING BY: Vivienne Segal, Silvery throated chanteuse from Philadelphia. Her career is unique in that she has always been a star. At the age of 18 she made her debut at the Casino in New York as the star of that charming operetta "The Blue Paradise." Since then she has played innumerable parts but I liked her best of all in "Pal Joey" . . . Pat Rooney. Veteran comedian. Now 66 and still going very strong. You probably saw Pat in vaudeville with Marion Bent, to whom he was married for 33 years until her death in 1938. He has been twice married since then . . . Danny Kaye. Considered by many to be America's No. 1 Comedian. Some say that spot belongs to Bob Hope. As for me, I'll take Durante.

NEW VERSION: "Sam, You Made the Pants Too Long"—that's the way the quaint ditty sung by Joe E. Lewis goes. Now another version, to be sung by Dinah Shore, seems timely. This should be "Sonja, You Made the Skirt Too Long." It seems government control of life in these United States has extended to a point where the Civilian Production Administration has ruled all women must wear short skirts. At least, the CPA has ruled it is illegal to sell long skirts. This is all right for the Marlene Dietrich types, but how about the innumerable women who have not been blessed by nature with an unusual symmetry of limb? I suggest that all congressmen start figuring out an answer to this question. They are undoubtedly going to be asked it by many of their indignant feminine constituents.

Marlene Dietrich

LARGE FEET: Research reveals the feet of American women are getting larger. Records show modern young women require a larger size shoe than their mothers did when they were teen agers. No doubt the girls view their growing feet with concern and alarm. Women place too much importance on the size of their feet. I never knew of a fellow thinking any less of a girl because her tootsies were a little oversized.

VALUABLE PUP: A Pekingese named Sheraton Dorian is rated the finest of its breed in England. This animal is said to be worth $6000. That's a lot of money for a little dog. This reminds me that I must find out something I should know but don't. That is who owns the most valuable dog in the United States and what is it worth? Anybody know the answer?

LOVE, ETC.: "I have seen a homely woman transferred into one of impelling beauty, in several days' time, by the alchemy of love," said Eleanora Duse. "Love not only creates beauty, but where there is beauty already it preserves it. Women feed on caresses as a bee feeds on flowers."

"I wonder if he ever will get over his contact with the Russian soldiers in Germany last year!"

THESE DAYS

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

THIS MUCH must be understood: Anti-Semitism is on the rise throughout Europe. Six million Jews have already been murdered in Europe because they were Jews. The war only accelerated the velocity of murder.

Anti-Semitism is now taking hold in Soviet Russia and the puppet countries, particularly Poland. Reports that seep through the iron curtain are too horrible even for this tough era.

The simple and plausible explanation is that hunger stalking the continent, men ask themselves, "mine or thine?" There is hardly enough food for anybody, much less for everybody.

But hunger and the division of scarcity does not explain all. Just as Hitler's economic and political ideas for conquered Europe in spite of his defeat in war, so are his bizarre social and racial concepts too deeply rooted in the minds of Europeans to be obliterated by military force.

Hitler hated Jews because they were Jews. All attempts to explain this hatred psychologically or politically lead to nothing.

IT IS THIS emotion that is flowering in Europe in millions of graves. It is debauching Europeans who are drenching themselves in rivers of blood. It has made an ideal of hatred.

There can be only one hope for the remaining Jews: "it is to be taken out of Europe.

This is not exclusively a Jewish question; it is even more a Christian question. For whereas, the Jews will be murdered and will die, their murderers will live and their personalities will be everlastingly cursed by the hatred and cruelties and murders which they perpetrate.

It is like the crimes which Washington is ordering our soldiers to commit when they are forced to seize runaway Poles and Russians and other seekers for human freedom to drive them back into slavery.

The American boys who are required to commit these acts of human indignity and debasement will never be able to wash this misery from their memories.

PALESTINE is part of this complex of problems. I ask bluntly: Will the United States admit a million displaced Jews? Will Canada? Will the Argentine? Who will? Do we need to wait for the universal no!? What is the use of bewildering the already bewildered with alternative hopes that are not even mirages?

The Palestinian Arabs really have nothing to lose, if only they could be made to fear nothing. The report of the Anglo-American Committee lays a basis for Arab-Jewish negotiations.

Their poor country could be enriched beyond their imagination. Schools and hospitals could be erected for their children. Industries could be introduced to raise their standard of living.

For every dollar the Jews spend for themselves, they could afford to spend two for the Arabs. For what is money if only the remaining living Jews of Europe can be rescued from torture and death?

THE JEWS are now raising $100,000,000 in this country for the United Jewish Appeal. If there were assurance of Arab-Jewish co-operation, they could double or treble the amount—for the American Jew who is here by the accident of immigration, lives on borrowed time in this land of freedom.

Where would any of them be today had their parents remained in Bialystok, Warsaw, Posen, or any other European city?

The problem then is to find a formula for Arab-Jewish understanding. They need not hate each other. After all Ishmael and Isaac are brothers.

In this era when the Old and New Testaments and the Koran have ceased to move men to goodness and pity, politicians drive the human race to cannibalism.

The very first words of the Koran are:

"In the name of the merciful and compassionate God. Praise belongs to God, the Lord of the Worlds, the merciful, the compassionate, the Ruler of the Day of Judgment! Thee we serve and Thee we ask for aid. Guide us in the right path, the path of those Thou are gracious to; not to those Thou are wroth with; nor to those who err."

Is that not a better guide than the threats that emanate from the Arab higher committee—the threat of a general strike, of joining Soviet Russia, of war?

Perhaps if Jew and Arab called in the Christian—maybe somewhere "I Am My Brother's Keeper"—might prevail.

Hollywood

By Dorothy Manners
Substituting for Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, May 6—"Senator Claghorn," that tootin' Southerner of Fred Allen's program, has at last made up his mind about his movie career. Under his real name of Kenny Delmar, the Senator has signed with Brynie Foy to star in "It's a Joke, Son" for Pathe-Eagle-Lion, the new company which Foy heads as production chief.

Delmar could just about have written his own movie ticket because he's the most quoted and misquoted character developed by radio in years. Of course, he remains the same loud-mouthed rooter for the South on the screen. First scene, in fact, shows him crawling up on the roof to cut off the part of the weather vane pointing North! Guess I don't need to add that in real life the senator is a good looking, 33-year-old radio announcer-actor. His wife and young son accompany him to Hollywood.

"Sen. Claghorn"

IF ANYTHING good has come out of this "Forever Amber" debacle it's the very nice feeling everyone on the 20th lot has about Peggy Cummins and other players who did their best in the picture. The studio isn't letting Peggy down and she'll be surrounded by a really top cast in "Bob, Son of Battle." Lon McCallister, who has a terrific pull with the youngsters and is way, way up on the fan mag popularity polls, was definitely set over the week-end for the male lead. He'll finish his current opus "The Red House" and then report to 20th.

RUMORS THAT Irene Selznick is going in hot and heavy for stage show production have jelled. She's opening a New York office on a large scale and is already shopping around for plays, theaters and actors. This means she will be away from Hollywood for months at a time and she'll be missed here. It. the past year, Irene developed into one of the gayest hostesses and most charming women in Hollywood. Being busy, having a good time and a new slant on life is a wonderful beauty recipe for any woman.

MELVYN DOUGLAS turned down the musical he was supposed to make at Columbia and returns from New York next week to make his first picture since getting out of uniform, at M-G-M. He'll play Chamberlain in "Sea of Grass" with Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn and Elia Kazan directing. Hear that Melvyn's comments when he heard Columbia had a musical lined up for him were very pert and to the point, but not for publication.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: "Skippy" Haymes, five-year-old son of Dick Haymes and Joanne Dru, was on the "Abie's Irish Rose" set the other day watching his mother emote in her first screen role. When Joanne appeared wearing a wedding gown, the youngster started hopping up and down yelling: "That's silly, that's silly." "What's the matter, Honey?" Joanne tried to comfort him. "Oh, mother," he wailed, "I thought you were already married."

IF LANA TURNER doesn't show up in Crawfordsville, Ind., with their baby, Cheryl, in tow — Steve Crane is going to be the most disappointed guy in the world. Before Steve planed out last week, he talked long distance to Lana in New York and she promised to meet him there at his mother's home. It would be Cheryl's introduction to her paternal grandmother, and Steve is eager for the reunion. But with Lana —you never know from edition to edition what she will do or where she will be.

I WOULDN'T BE knowing whether George Sanders' wire to the Associated Women's Clubs (they protested to Eric Johnston about his "insolent" and "licentious" references to women in "Scandal in Paris") will placate the ladies or not. George says: "Dear Ladies— Since time immemorial scandal has been women's exclusive property and it was far from my intent to presume upon your prerogatives. But it appears I have done so. The motive, I assure you, was solely in the furtherance of entertainment and carried with it no implications of poaching permanently upon territory hallowed to the fair sex. My hat is tipped to you, as always."

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS: June Clyde and T. Freeland have been secretly divorced for three months. He's in England and she's in New York, and it's all very friendly; Jane Russell is a very sick girl in Chicago—threatened with pneumonia. She's been appearing with "The Outlaw"; the Harry Cohns reversed the usual procedure and named their second son, Harry, Jr. The first is John Perry Cohn; John Loder started replacements of the jewelry stolen from Hedy Lamarr last week by gifting her with an $8000 diamond ring. Nice replacing—and while we're in the sparkler department, Darryl Zanuck just gave Virginia a beautiful new diamond necklace from Laykin's—probably because she doesn't remind him of anything connected with "Forever Amber"; Bebe Daniels' charming cocktail party for Lord Lascelles brought out Bill and Diana Powell, the Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Harold and Mildred Lloyd, Jeannette MacDonald and Gene Raymond, Loretta Young, John Payne and Gloria Dehaven. Bebe's parties are always gay, for she's so gay and witty herself; The Van Heflin baby is expected in July; Bill Orr and his bride, Joy Page, rented their house and are moving to New York for a year. Joy opens at the Buck's county playhouse in Pennsylvania May 30, and Bill goes on to Broadway for a show; popular Jerry Asher, is leaving his Warner publicity post after seven years, to write feature articles for the same mags he "planted" for so long; that new contract Jack Buetel just signed with Howard Hughes calls for a jump in salary and for two or more—pictures a year. The kid's scared of being "outlawed" again—off the screen too long, to you.

THE LITTLE MATTER of a divorce did not stop Merrill Pye from giving Natalie Draper a diamond and ruby studded buckle ring and matching belt buckle for her birthday; pretty cute the way Bob Hope engineered that baby shower for Ginny Simms, following the Walgren radio show. The prize gift was from R. H. Reimanschneider, manager of the drug store firm, who gave Ginny an order for all the baby items carried by his company; Jackie Gleason, Ann Triola and Ann McCormack open the new show at Slapsy Maxie's tonight; Olin Howlin goes into "Crime Doctor's Honor" with Warner Baxter at Columbia.

Boston After Dark

MONDAY MUSINGS: The city desk can check today with former Police Commissioner Joseph F. Timilty, and probably get confirmation—if Joe is talking—of an interesting news story . . . The story is a ripple from the big wave thrown out Wednesday when a group represented by Judge John Pappas and his brother, Thomas, bid $3,600,000 for the Eastern Racing Association's control, and won it . . . Our story is that Timilty, who was third highest bidder in that now famous auction, has been admitted as an investor to the group that bought the control of Suffolk Downs, and will be chairman of the board of directors of the East Boston racetrack.

THERE IS AN "IF" in the story, however . . . The Messrs. Pappas of Greater Boston okayed the Timilty proposal to become a member of the controling group . . . After a conference Saturday afternoon, however, Timilty was informed that he and his investment must first be approved by William Helis, the Golden Greek

ACQUISITION OF JOE TIMILTY as a high official and important stockholder in Suffolk Downs would appear, on the face of it, to be a shrewd move by the new owners of the old "Sufferin' Downs" . . . It would place an important Democrat alongside the Republicanly-inclined Thomas Pappas, for one thing . . . It was Tom Pappas' friendship to the Saltonstall administration (and particularly to the G. O. P. controlled racing commission) which made it possible for Mr. Pappas and associates to get a license to operate the Dighton dogtrack after Saltonstall had kept the track closed for a full season in the wake of the homicide of Edward J. O'Hare, the track's onetime "bram" and general manager . . .

WHETHER THE MAGIC NAME of Timilty would engender kindly thoughts in the collective mind of the Tobin administration is open to question, however . . . The Curley-Tobin feud shows no sign of diminution of bitterness . . . Timilty was a Curley appointee as police commissioner, and he could have had almost any appointment he wished (we hear) under the present Curley administration of the city of Boston . . . (Joe took a place on the board of trustees of the City Hospital) . . . Timilty and Mayor Curley are close friends

NOTWITHSTANDING his friendship with the mayor, Timilty is supposed to be on even — even if not intimate — terms with Governor Tobin . . . But another magical Boston name acts currently as a stanchion for Joseph F. Timilty, and the name is that of Joseph P. Kennedy . . . Some gossips go so far as to say that Joe Timilty is not an investing kind of a fellow, and that if he is eager to acquire a large interest in Suffolk Downs then he is working largely with "o. p. m." . . . It might be unfair also to hint that a million or two of Joe Kennedy's many millions is backing him. So we hasten to disavow any such personal suspicion.

IN FACT the situation in which Timilty acted as a bidder ($3,100,000) for Suffolk Downs did not resemble a Kennedy operation -not in the least.

IN THE FIRST PLACE—the former ambassador to the Court of St. James had gone on record as saying that "Suffolk Downs did not appear to be a bargain any longer" . . . and that statement was made when a price of $2,500,000—not to mention the million more it finally sold for —was regarded as slightly fantastic as the price of the 14,997 shares of stock which represented the control . . . In the next place, it is no secret that Timilty was bidding for a group of prospective buyers represented by a Boston attorney named Maurice Simons . . . (his Mr. Simons already owns a fair-sized minority block in the track, and was said to have bought 80 or more additional shares of stock at a price of $310 the day (Friday past) on which the sale of Suffolk's control was confirmed by Judge Sweeney in Federal court . . . Yes, this Suffolk Downs business has ramifications . . . It will be a relief all around when—come Friday next—the list of stockholders of the track will be filed with their partner, Commonwealth of Massachusetts . . . On Friday coming, the $3,250,000 still owing to the Aldred Investment Trust Co. will be "on the line" . . . The down payment was only $350,000.

Only, says he!

NEW YORK, May 6—Mayor O'Dwyer's secretary, Bill Donoghue, will resign his post to take an important job with the United Nations . . . Joan Crawford has a new protege—an ex-Marine named Sunny Barber. She's helping his career in pictures. (And isn't he helping her morale?) . . . Betty Furness' residence at Las Vegas is being made delightful by Robert Walker's week-end visits . . . Peggy Hopkins Joyce will trek to Rio de Janeiro to polish off her third book, "Pink Toes" . . . Thousands of new cars are in storage waiting for a hike in prices . . . Friends expect Louis Calhern and Dorothy Gish to announce their wedding plans any day now. (They play a blissfully wedded pair in "The Connecticut Yankee") . . . The cast of the recently folded "Shootin' Star" is burned at the management. They were ordered to play a preview for the benefit of one critic—who then panned them.

Joan Crawford

BILL HARRIGAN is ailing in Chicago . . . The Broadway mob cleaned up on Louis Prima's "King Pretty." Some of the song pluggers had a hundred on the nag to win . . . Paula Drew, newly signed by Walter Wanger, is dating Bob Taplinger, newly signed by Walter Wanger . . . Del Richard Wright (author of "Native Son" and "Black Boy") leave for France with his wife and child on the S.S. Brazil at noon yesterday . . . at the invitation of the French government? . . . When Desi Arnaz opens at the Copa his vocalist will be a beautiful 19-year-old newcomer named Tana - a discovery of Desi's mother-in-law! . . . The Eugene Baird-Dennis Day idyll has sizzled and fizzled . . . Freedman's will add a record and music department. (Music to read by no doubt?)

A HOLLYWOOD celebrity and his wife will divorce as soon as the expected baby is born. Oddly enough (no fan would believe it) she's the one who's brushing him off . . . Leopold Stokowski and his Gloria are planning to settle in Greenwich . . . The Cancer Drive in theaters is breaking all records . . . Brooklyn Dodgers outfielder Augie Galan is scoring the biggest hit of the season with pretty Gene Hasse, the Hattie Carnegie mannequin . . .

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON, May 6—I thought for a moment that Walter Trohan, the illustrious if somewhat taciturn journalist, was talking about a gunman because he said: "And that fellow down there is Trigger Lee!"

Jim Farley

"He looks kind of sinister at that," I agreed. "But how did a heist guy get in here?"

"He is no heist guy," said Mr. Trohan. "He is not even a gangster. He is the secretary-general of the United Nations Security Council. The right spelling of his name is Trygve Lie but it is pronounced 'Trigva Lee,' so naturally all the boys and girls covering UNO have Americanized it to 'Trigger Lee.'"

We were up in the balcony of the gymnasium at Hunter College but no debutantish undergraduates were swinging from flying rings in their bloomers, more's the pity. The gymnasium has been commandeered from the sweet young things to house sessions of the global thinkers.

I had run into Mr. Trohan at another shrine of learning known as the Stork Club, where he was discussing molecular disintegration and kindred topics with the distinguished savant, Jim Farley. Mr. Trohan interrupted the weighty debate to say that, as long as I was in New York, I should cover a session of the UNO.

"It will be very educational," said Mr. Trohan, "and besides you will be entranced by the accent of Col. W. R. Hodgson, the Australian delegate. Every time the Colonel opens his mouth Sir Alexander Cadogan, the British delegate, winces. Col. Hodgson employs a sort of vocal Australian crawl."

CERTAIN FORMALITIES had to be attended to before we went. First, I had to get an extremely ornate, gold-plated badge to wear on the lapel.

"But," said Mr. Trohan, "the badge will not get you into the sessions. In fact, it will not get you into the grounds. All it does is let you pass the barricade at the end of the street."

"You mean," I said, "this beautiful and impressive thing just permits me to be in the vicinity?"

"That's right," replied Mr. Trohan. "The United Nations is a very exclusive affair and its [illegible] is as American taxpayers, crashing the joint. You must have a card to pass through the gates."

"And that," I said, "gets you in to the sessions."

"By no means," snapped Mr. Trohan. "Do you think we'd make it that easy? The card just permits you on the grounds. You must have another card to get into the gymnasium, or council room as we have renamed it."

"That's two cards and a badge," I said. "But that isn't so bad. You get them all at once and it's over and done with."

"The hell it is!" howled Mr. Trohan, forgetting his polished manners. "You've got to get a new card to the council room every day. They keep changing the color so you can't cheat."

WE TOOK the Lexington ave. subway to Belmont Park station in the Bronx. Mr. Trohan, being a little overboard with his expense account, had to walk five blocks through the rain to Hunter College. Mr. Trohan was grumbling that I was too cheap to kick in for a cab and I retorted:

"We wish to preserve the democratic spirit of UN, don't we? Think of the brotherhood of nations, we're big in the anti-subway . . ."

RIP KIRBY

ASIDE FROM MY LECTURING HERE AT NORTHCHESTER, I'LL DO WHAT I CAN TO HELP YOU RECOVER DR. HICKS' STOLEN FORMULA
GOOD BOY, KIRBY! I WISH HICKS HAD DESTROYED THE ACCURSED THING WHEN I ASKED HIM TO!
WHO, OTHER THAN YOURSELF AND HICKS, KNOWS OF THE EXISTENCE OF THIS FORMULA?
DR. GLANTZ. HE IS CARING FOR THE TWO AFFLICTED STUDENTS. HE ALSO PERFORMED THE AUTOPSY ON MY DOG
ONE THING MORE. IS YOUR PHONE A PARTY LINE?
YES. HICKS, GLANTZ AND US. WHY?
JUST CURIOUS. IF YOU DON'T MIND, I'LL SHOVE OFF NOW.
NOT A WORD OF THIS TO MY WARD, JILL. I WOULDN'T WANT TO SPOIL HER WEDDING, KIRBY.

7 N. E. Vet Hospitals Invite Public Viewing

National Hospital Day will be observed next Sunday at the seven Veterans' Administration hospitals in New England in an effort to acquaint the public with the progress made toward Gen. Bradley's goal of a medical service second to none.

An extensive program of open house, band concerts and other entertainment has been planned at each hospital. Hospitals will be open to public inspection, and visitors will be taken on conducted tours.

Lelong Sees No Style War By U. S., Paris Designers

NEW YORK, May 6 (INS)—Lucien Lelong, who dreams up $600 dresses while he's shaving, sees no possible conflict between American and French designers to wrest control of world fashions.

The French designer has come to the United States as representative of his government to open the "theater de la mode"—300 miniature mannequins dressed by Paris stylists to raise money for France.

Commenting on current reports of a tussle between designers, Lelong, president of the French group for many years, said: "All countries, especially a great country like the United States, have the right to create their own styles.

"But in this day of fast travel they will undoubtedly influence each other."

Lelong believes France's fashion industry, employing 1,000,000 people, will have its export business up to prewar levels by the end of next year.

Lelong told how he saved the French dress industry from being moved to Berlin.

Hitler had ordered him, as head of the French coutoure, to arrange the removal of 20,000 designers and workers to Germany, to make it the new fashion capital of the world.

"I tell them (Nazis) what's use of your bringing workers and designers to Berlin? Who can oblige anyone to create anything?"

Despite orders to close shop, Lelong said not one fashion firm shut down—and none went to Germany.

Great Grandma Is Bride at 74

DETROIT, May 6 (AP)—A pair of newlyweds, aged 76 and 74, were honeymooning today after a wedding attended by the bride's three children, 11 grandchildren, and 19 great-grandchildren.

The 74-year-old bride is Mrs. Alexander McPhee, whose first husband died in 1938 two years after they had celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Her husband 76, is a retired merchant seaman.

FBI Seeks Death For Alcatraz Trio

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6 (AP)—The FBI moved into Alcatraz today to collect evidence against three survivors of the half-dozen convicts whose desperate, vain break for freedom brought a 36-hour siege of their cell-block and left five men dead and 15 wounded.

Not a prisoner escaped.

The three may yet die—in San Quentin's gas chamber.

"There is a good chance that evidence will be sufficient to indict the surviving participants for murder," asserted U. S. Atty. Daniel C. Deasy—and if it is, he said, the death penalty will be demanded.

Despite the fact that there were only two guns in the entire group involved in the furious battle, he added, "where one or more participants (in a conspiracy to escape) actually killed some one, the others would be part of that conspiracy, and could be charged with murder."

The three surviving participants said 72-year-old Warden James A Johnston, were Sam Shockley, 36, serving a life term for kidnaping and robbery in Oklahoma; Miran Edgar Thompson, 29, serving 99 years for kidnaping and life for killing a Texas policeman, and Clarence Carnes, 19, Oklahoma desperado, serving 99 years for kidnaping and murder.

Guards broke into the last dark utility corridor of the prison wing Saturday to find the bodies of three others.

Bernard Coy, 46, spry little Louisville, Ky., bank robber who started the uprising by clambering up to a third-tier guards' gallery and forcing his way into it to slug and disarm Guard Bert Baen, was defiant to the last. Death caught him with arms extended as though still gripping the rifle he had seized from the guard.

Also dead in the narrow, pipe-filled passageway were:

Joseph Paul Cretzer, 35, Los Angeles bank robber who had assumed command and carried on the fight furiously, despite his quick conclusion that the break had failed.

Marvin F. Hubbard, 36, Tennessee kidnaper, who had lived until Saturday morning—outlasting Coy and Cretzer by one night.

The rifle and pistol which Coy had wrested from Burch were found beside the convicts.

Youth for Christ Leaders Convene

Youth for Christ leaders today opened a week of executive sessions at the New Ocean House in Swampscott, to be attended by founders of the movement from all parts of the country.

Wednesday evening, local leaders, business men and representative young people will honor the national leaders at a banquet at the New Ocean House. Saturday a rally will be held at the Boston Arena. The public is invited.

CONSERVATIVE LEADS

NEW DISCOVERY in a Hearing Aid

A big improvement has been made in a hearing aid now welcomed by thousands. Accepted by the Council on Physical Medicine of the American Medical Association. It is a new hearing aid that does not require separate battery pack, battery wire, battery case or garment to bulge or weigh you down. So small it fits in the hand. The tone is clear and powerful. So made that you can adjust it yourself to suit your hearing as your hearing changes. The makers of Beltone, Dept. 3614, 1450 W. 19th Street, Chicago 8, Ill., are so proud of their achievement that they will gladly send free descriptive booklet and explain how you may get a full demonstration of this remarkable hearing device in your own home without risking a penny. "I wuz thinkin'...."

by Izzy Ort

Boy! Am I beatin' out all over — like June! I jest made the biggest deal sinct the purchase of Alaska! Onct more I rung the bell! I ain't jabberin' becuz I'm egotistickle; I'm braggin' about wat I'm gettin'. As of Monday, I'm ringin' the curtain up in my Grille on one of the greatest of old-timers, to wit: "PANAMA HATTIE!" Any service man wat ever passed through the Panama Canal knows "PANAMA HATTIE!" She wuz the greatest morale booster we ever had in the land of frijoles and canal locks! Everybody knew her as "the mother and sweetheart of the USO" witch is somethin' ta say! She knew more guys in uniform than Uncle Sam hisself! "PANAMA HATTIE" wuz the star of the Moulin Rouge in Colon an' other Canal hot spots. She's ginger an' dynamite and personality from toe-nail to scalp! She's got more entertainment value than a stage full of stars! I know that every GI, sailor an' Marine wat wuz ever in the Canal is goin' ta come bustin' through the doors on Monday night witch is this evenin'! It's gonna be "old-timers night" wid vengeance! Chick Harris' Band will be goin' on all eight cylinders an' the joint will be buzzin' like a convention of bees! I'll be down front aheada time myself. Drop in early fer fun like you've never had at Ort's Grille, 25 Essex St., Boston. Advt.

Dad, Son Safely Sail Crippled Craft Home

GLOUCESTER, May 6—Manuel Brown, 60, and his son Alvin, 35, both of Gloucester, made their way safely to port by sail after an all-night search by the Coast Guard. The engine of their 36-foot trawler had broken down.

WEDS DOCTOR—Joan Roberts, stage star, became the bride of Dr. John J. Donlon, of Rockville Center, N. Y., in St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York city. The couple left on an undisclosed honeymoon trip.

Double Premiere Due in Hub

With "A Walk in the Sun" and "Colonel Effingham's Raid," 20th Century-Fox's film adaptations of two of the year's notable best sellers, due at the Paramount and Fenway Theaters on Thursday, Boston may preen itself on an outstanding double premiere.

"A Walk in the Sun" stars Dana Andrews with Richard Conte in Harry Brown's powerful and daring story of the adventures of a group of fighting men who lived a lifetime in a few hours. It is the frank and forthright revelation of a single platoon of men during the blazing hours of the Salerno invasion.

Charles Coburn, Joan Bennett and William Eythe are starred in "Colonel Effingham's Raid," ceeds to upset the citizens of an entire town with his own private rules on reform and romance. Barry Flemming's book-of-the-month hit. It is the saucy tale of a gay, old philanderer who pro-

'Dragonwyck' Hot Boxoffice

By PEGGY DOYLE

"Dragonwyck," Darrel F. Zanuck's plushy film production based on Anya Seton's best seller, looks to be another boxoffice smash for Keith Memorial Theater.

With the starring Gene Tierney, the film fans' favorite torrid temptress and presently rumored to replace British Peggy Cummins in the abruptly halted production of "Forever Amber," the K-M marquee sells "Dragonwyck" before you give up the ticket in your hot little fist.

Miss Tierney is cast as the passionate, young beauty whose austerely religious family background finds her unprepared to withstand the worldly fascination of Vincent Price's aristocratic egomaniac.

Price's velvet-voiced Nicholas Van Ryn is one of the best characterizations this excellent actor has ever given on the screen. His performance, as a matter of fact, is the most subtle thing in this psychological drama that too obviously points up its melodramatically contrived situations.

Walter Huston's stern, stubborn, Bible-quoting parent has authority. Anne Revere as his understanding, controlled mate who quietly suggests his decisions at critical moments is deeply affecting.

A new boy, Glenn Langan, a rangy, handsome fellow who bears watching, is importantly spotted as a young physician. It is he who uncovers Van Ryn's murder of his first wife and saves Miss Tierney's fair Miranda from a simlar fate.

Wonder-child Connie Marshall, she who had the "Sentimental Journey" audiences awash with tears, has another appealing role in this one. So does that fine young actress, Jessica Tandy, who has been missing too long from stage and screen.

"Dragonwyck," with its mid-19th century American feudal background, has been produced with all the Zanuck lavishness and attention to baronial gadgetry.

Nice Open-Faced Fruit Pies Help Stretch Flour Supply

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

STRETCHING AMERICA'S WHEAT FLOUR supply that others less fortunate may share becomes not only a patriotic duty but a delightful reward in open-faced fruit pies and cream pies. Conscious of the food value of enriched flour, pie-lovers will devour the last crumb of these flaky golden crusts. Pie for dessert, has staying quality that helps prevent between-meal emptiness.

The brownness of the crust masks the slightly grayish color of Emergency Flour, and recipes for pie-crusts may use Emergency Flour without any change in the proportion of ingredients. The amount of shortening may be slightly reduced if desired, but it should not be increased when using this new flour. Most cooks will prefer using their regular recipes as is.

Cooks for small families may wish to reduce the size of pies to suit their own needs. Since freshly-baked pies are always most appetizing, the homemaker may bake individual pies or tarts to avoid leftover portions.

MAKING PIE CRUST

For pie crust like Mother used to make, the dough is tossed on a lightly floured pastry cloth or board and rolled quickly and lightly from the center toward the outer edges. Lightly lifting it several times during rolling prevents sticking and makes rolling a paper-thin crust easier and quicker. Then the crust is folded carefully in the middle and laid into the pan.

Pricking the unbaked crust with a fork allows air between crust and pan to escape and helps the crust to hold its shape. Trim the edges of the pastry, cutting it 1-inch larger than the pan. Make a sort of "hem" around the edge by folding this extra part under. Then flute the edge. Chilling the dough before rolling or after it is fitted into the pan also helps to prevent shrinking during baking.

Juicy fruit pies are best baked at a high temperature (425 deg. F.) for the first 10 or 15 minutes. Then the temperature is reduced to moderate (350 to 375 deg. F.) to complete the baking.

FLAKY PIE CRUST

1 cup sifted enriched flour
½ tsp. salt 1-3 cup shortening
1½ to 2½ tbsp. cold water

Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening. Add water. Mix to a dry, crumbly dough. Toss on floured pastry cloth. Roll and fold until smooth. Roll about ⅛-inch thick. Line individual 4-inch pie pans or one 9-inch pie pan. Prick with fork. Fill with fruit filling and bake, or bake separately for cream filling.

A meringue adds attractive variety and blends well with fruit flavors. It may cover the fruit entirely, or it may just form a crown around the edge, or dainty peaks dropped from a spoon so that each portion has its own meringue. A crumble topping may be made with 3 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons sugar, and 1 to 2 tablespoons melted margarine or butter rubbed in with the fingertips until the mixture is crumbly. Sprinkled over fruit pies, this topping adds flavor at the same time that it absorbs some of the juice.

Combine luscious strawberries and bananas with cream filling, and the result is Angel Tarts. If there are only two in the family, make only two tarts, saving the other half of the pastry dough in the refrigerator for more tarts another day.

FILLING FOR ANGEL TARTS

2½ tbsp. enriched flour
6 tbsp. sugar; ½ tsp. salt
1 cup milk
1½ tbsp. margarine or butter
1 egg; ½ tsp. vanilla extract
1 banana, sliced
Sweetened sliced strawberries

Blend flour, sugar and salt. Add milk and cook in double boiler, stirring constantly until mixture is smooth and slightly thickened. Add margarine or butter. Beat egg and add.

Cook until thick, stirring constantly. Cool. Add vanilla extract and mix well. Arrange sliced banana in 2 baked tart shells. Pour cream filling over them, and cover with strawberries. Makes enough filling for two 4-inch tarts.

A simple black dress of Ch'Intang, a luscious new rayon shantung, tailored for town wear by David Crystal, is trimmed dramatically with brilliant yellow. Cleverly placed godets supply the new fluid fullness. Matching yellow gloves and flower hat complete the color symphony.

Shields Remedy for Cracked Nails

By PAULINE WARREN

IF YOU'RE WORKING like a happy little lark this spring getting your garden planted, or refurbishing your home, your nails are probably taking the consequences. And that's a bad break (no pun intended) for scarred nails look uncouth and give an impression of shabbiness. Even when a woman is dressed with opulence, if her nails are chipped and grimed, onlookers are apt to guess the elegance a sham and entertain unflattering thoughts on her background.

WANTS TO LOOK NICE

It's maddening, for the work must be done and no girl with any zip is going to lounge around continuously like a beautiful lily just to save her nails. Yet when a girl is out for gayety, she wants to look like a million, not a kitchen or office slavey. She doesn't want those nails to give her away.

So now add to the wonders of this atomic age that the experts have thought up a remedy for even such a trifle. For only two pennies a nail, a girl can buy nail insurance which lasts as long as three weeks.

CAN PASTE ON NAILS

It comes in the form of thin, adherent shields she can paste on her nails which can't be detected under two coats of polish. Unlike artificial nails, these protective shields are soft and flexible. Not affected by water, they are strong enough to hold a cracked nail together, undetected, until it grows out to the proper length. Yet they are so thin and pliable a girl can wear them without being conscious of their existence. But best of all they make a manicure last as long as three weeks as they absorb most service injuries and add strength to the nails without permitting the polish to break or chip. You can use a single shield on one nail to protect a crack, without observing any difference to your other uncovered nails, except in greater beauty.

Stage stars and particularly dancers can't exist without them—even acrobatic dancers who often incur painful nail injuries can grow nails to a beautiful length with these sturdy shields.

For the name of these nail protectors telephone Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me, care of Boston American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MOVIE STARS such as Esther Williams (M-G-M) who wear their nails opulently long have to know all the tricks to keep them from getting scarred or torn. New shields on the market protect the nails from breaking or chipping, cannot be detected under two coats of polish and make one manicure last as long as three weeks.

Her First Trip By Pullman

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: Soon I am leaving with my 4-year-old daughter to join my husband in the Middle West. Since the trip will take approximately three days and nights, we will travel by Pullman. I have never traveled by Pullman and am completely in the dark as to how it functions, as to meals, tips, and so forth. Any help you will give me will, I assure you, be deeply appreciated.

J. P. D.

If your Pullman accommodation is a completely enclosed room of any kind—a compartment, bedroom, roomette, drawing-room, for instance — all dressing and toilet facilities are in the room, and so you will not have to go to the public dressing-room. But if your sleeping accommodation is, say, a lower berth, you and your little daughter use the car dressing-room. Usually above one entrance to the body of the car there is a sign (illuminated at night) marked "Women," or there is a sign "Women" on the curtains at the entrance to the dressing-room.

You needn't be a bit concerned about your Pullman travel, for everything is made simple and convenient, and each car has a porter on continuous duty to care for the wants and comforts of the passengers. When you want your berth made up (probably early in the evening, since you are traveling with your little girl), tell the porter; and while he is making up your berth, either take any vacant seat in the car, or if you prefer, sit in the dressing-room. Undressing and dressing may be accomplished entirely in your berth (which is shut off from the aisle by heavy curtains which you can fasten securely from inside the berth); or you may find it more convenient to do part of the undressing and dressing in your berth, then complete the dressing in the women's dressing-room at the end of the car. (You needn't feel embarrassed at walking along the aisle in your long robe and slippers . . . it's the general practice and proper Pullman etiquette.)

In your berth you will find a button (between the windows) to use to summon the porter for any service you wish. There will be two shelf-spaces let down, a small hammock near the windows for your accessories, and hangers inside the heavy opaque curtain that fastens from the inside.

It is customary to tip the Pullman porter at the end of the trip: for three days and nights for you and your daughter you might like to give him from a dollar to two dollars, the amount depending on any special service he has performed for you or your daughter. After each meal in the dining-car, tip the waiter as you would in a restaurant; ten per cent of the bill, or perhaps a bit more, is the general practice.

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

"YOUNG HOSTESS"—The child for whom a party is given should greet her guests as they arrive. She thus learns the duties of a hostess and her small visitors feel more at ease than if greeted by an adult only.

Lot of Girl Showing

By BETTINA BEDWELL

TWO words came to mind when the parade of styles for vacation sports passes. They are nude and neutrals. Most of the clothes designed for playtime leave a lot of girl showing, which you should know by now. And the swankiest of them go in for neutral colors, with only flashes of brilliance added or subtracted at will.

A sample of what one of our most famous designers is doing with this idea is shown in Miss Dulin's sketch. Claire Potter here shows a shorts, bras and bolero sports outfit all in pearly gray sharkan. The very short bolero removed, most of the upper portions of a girl are bared, with only a bras for dress. The shorts are very short and rise in points above the belt at the front.

Smart Set Sub-Debs at May Party

By BETTY ALDEN

AT THE EMPIRE DINNER DANCE Saturday night we had a preview of the daughters of Boston's first families who will be debutantes of next year. Some 150 seventeen and eighteen-year-olds were entertained at this traditional May party for sub-debs that benefits the Bryn Mawr Scholarship Fund.

These girls will have more opportunity to be social butterflies than their sisters who made wartime debuts. There is no longer a shortage of stag lines so for the most part their coming out parties will be dances instead of the teas and luncheons of wartime. There were two partners for every girl at the Empire Dance. The debs-to-be are a pretty and peppy crowd, with blondes and brunettes about evenly divided. They have a flair for fashion too, judging by the individuality and variety of gowns they chose for their first big party.

Hoop skirts were very popular for swinging and swaying around the Hotel Somerset ballroom where the party took place. Petite dark-haired Margaret Ricketson wore a white dotted swiss hoop skirt with tiny royal blue bows that caught up the hem and softened the off-shoulder neckline. Blonde Schuyler Choate, one of the favorites of the stag line, wore a white chiffon hoop skirted gown sprinkled with brilliants and made with a wide American Beauty satin sash.

Sitting one out with Frank Balch, Virginia "Ginger" Pease of Chestnut Hill was attractive and vivacious in a black taffeta top and scarlet skirt with a corsage of gardenias. Fay Dabney, brunette and very popular, wore a lime green faille with the new panier skirt and long gloves to match. In her hair was a wreath of dark green leaves caught with green veiling. Barbara Bell, with her blonde hair in the popular page boy, wore ice blue satin and tulle and Angela Griswold chose sophisticated black net and lace.

Mary Kay Arnold

Most of the girls wore long gloves. Nancy Whitney's were scarlet to accent her powder blue satin dress. Day Hansel wore black lace gloves to match the wide bands of lace that trimmed the skirt of her Mayflower pink chiffon. Waltzing with Thomas Ruggles, a student at Milton Academy, blonde Estelle Lawson of Dedham wore a full skirted white taffeta with long white gloves and white flowers in her hair. Edith Ham, executing a peppy samba with Whitman Smith of Weston, looked most attractive in black taffeta with coral and blue bands at the neckline and a black velvet hair band.

Arthur King, one of the few sailor boys in the stag line, was waltzing with Martha Tyler when we caught a glimpse of her lovely silver gray taffeta dress and hair band of forget-me-nots. Glimpsed Thornton Davis giving a light to pretty Nancy Carter whose pink chiffon had deep ruffles around the hem.

Also glimpsed were subdebs Connie Yerxa, Peggy Pratt, Jane Cochrane, Margaret Aldis, Barbara Pickering and Nancy Iddings. And members of the post-deb committee included Mary Kay Arnold, Kay MacDuffie, Nancy Richmond and Alvah Hood, who wore a lovely coral taffeta hoop-skirted gown.

Bill Weinberg and Still In Bout at Mechanics

By JACK CONWAY

BILL WEINBERG, Chelsea heavyweight who saw service with the Coast Guard during the war, will try to take one more step forward in the fistic parade when he collides with Tim Still, Newark giant, in the feature 10-round bout at the Callahan A. C.'s show at Mechanics Building tonight. Weinberg has scored recent victories over Jay D. Turner and Dan Merritt and he is confident he has too much boxing skill and punching ability for Still.

Bill Weinberg

There are bright fistic futures ahead for young heavyweights like Weinberg and Johnny Shkor. Joe Louis and Billy Conn, who battle for the world's heavyweight title in New York on June 19, have lost some of their ring polish as a result of inactivity, and in time there will be a top opening in the heavyweight class for a youngster who can punch and box.

Mad Anthony Jones, who tosses plenty of leather with each hand, will oppose Solly Zolter of Montreal in another 10. If Jones wins, he will continue to bombard Coley Welch with challenges in the hope of forcing the New England middleweight champion to meet him.

Tommy Greb of the West End will be back in his own class of boxers when he opposes Tommy Moore of South Boston in a third 10. A fourth 10-rounder will find Pat Comiskey of Newark trading blows with Eddie Grace of the South End.

LaMotta vs. Blackwood

JOEY LaMOTTA and Joe Blackwood will top the Goodwin A. C. card in a 10-round bout at the Garden on Friday night. It will be a return tussle between these mitt wielders. In their last bout, honors were even after 10 furious rounds of milling. LaMotta had the better of the early going. Blackwood came with a late rush and had his opponent groggy at the final gong. If the bout had been a 12 instead of a 10-round affair it is likely that Blackwood would have won by a kayo.

Blackwood has always made a good showing in his bouts here. Joe gave Red Priest a furious battle until he was knocked out. In the event Blackwood wins over LaMotta, he will demand another match with Priest.

Johnston's New Club

JIMMY JOHNSTON, one of New York's most colorful ring figures, will be back in action with a new club at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, next month. It will be known as the Zenith A. C.

Johnston intends to show the best available boxers in the country. Johnston has already got an agreement with Johnny Buckley to feature Red Priest against a leading middleweight at the opening show.

It was Johnston who promoted the Jack Sharkey-Mickey Walker and Sharkey-Carnera bouts at Ebbets Field. At the time Sharkey was warring with the New York Garden which was doing all it could to protect Max Schmeling as heavyweight champion. Schmeling was forced out of New York State when he would not meet Sharkey, and ran out to Cleveland where he knocked out Young Stribling.

Johnston stood with Sharkey and Johnny Buckley in their fight against the Garden and Schmeling. The result was Johnston was later named matchmaker of the Garden and forced Schmeling into a New York ring with Sharkey. The latter succeeded in outpointing Schmeling and won the title.

Magic Coin Picks Weinberg to Win

Jack Conway's Magic Coin today made the following selections on the Callahan A. C. show:

Bill Weinberg to beat Tim Still.

Mad Anthony Jones to upset Solly Zolter.

Tommy Greb to conquer Tommy Moore.

Pat Comiskey to defeat Eddie Grace.

Jack Conway's Magic Coin has picked 23 winners out of 24 selections. Tonight the Magic Coin plans to sweep the card.

Casey Back in Action

STEVE CASEY, former Army sergeant, has been signed by Paul Bowser to meet Olaf Olson of Milwaukee in a finish mat bout at the Arena on Thursday night. If Casey wins, he will demand another title bout with Frank Sexton with whom he went to a draw recently.

Since returning East after a campaign on the Coast, Casey defeated Henri DeGlane and held Sexton even. He hopes to regain the world's heavyweight title which he lost to Sexton

Stephens Homers for Browns in 3-Run First

By HUCK FINNEGAN

FENWAY PARK, May 6—Still they pour in. Even a blue Monday doesn't dampen the unthusiasm of Red Sox fans. Buoyed by the Sox nine-game win streak, some 25,000 royal rooters were in the stands when the Sox teed off in the first game of today's double-header with the St. Louis Browns.

"Never saw anything like it," said Brown's Manager Luke Sewell who two years ago led his club to the A. L. pennant.

Sewell tossed ex-Red Sox slinger, Denny Galehouse, at Cronin's men. Denny, a world series winner in '44 was in service last season. The Sox pitcher was Dave Ferriss who blanked the A's and gave Detroit only one run in winning his last two games.

Ferriss' batterymate was Rookie Eddie McGah. He was catching his third major league game. He caught Ferriss when the latter won 7-0 in Philadelphia and caught Mickey Harris two days later.

Prewar favorites McQuillen, Judnich, Grace and Berardino made their first appearance in several years here with the Browns.

FIRST GAME

FIRST INNING

BROWNS—Pellagrini threw out Berardino. Grace walked. Stephens hit a home run over the left field wall scoring behind Grace. McQuillen flied to DiMaggio. Judnich singled. Christman doubled scoring Judnich. Stevens fanned. THREE RUNS.

RED SOX—Metkovich fanned. Pesky singled. Williams doubled scoring Pesky. Berardino threw out Doerr, Williams going to third. Stephens threw out York. ONE RUN.

SECOND INNING

BROWNS — Pallagrini threw out Mancuso. Galehouse singled. Berardino hit into a double play Pellagrini to Doerr to York. NO RUNS.

RED SOX—DiMaggio flied to Judnich. Berardino threw out McGah. Stephens threw out Pellagrini. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING

BROWNS Grace singled. Stephens singled. McQuillen forced Stephens, Pellagrini to Pesky. Judnich flied to Williams, Grace scoring after the catch. Christman forced McQuillen, Pesky to Doerr. ONE RUN.

RED SOX—Berardino threw out Ferriss. Metkovich flied to Grace. Pesky singled. Williams singled. Pesky stopping at second. Doerr singled, Pesky scoring and Williams taking third. York flied to Judnich. ONE RUN.

FOURTH INNING

BROWNS—Stevens singled and was out stealing, McGath to Doerr. Mancuso singled. Galehouse forced Mancuso, Ferris to Pesky. Berardino was out, Ferriss to York. NO RUNS.

RED SOX—DiMaggio popped to Berardino. McGath flied to Judnich. Pellagrini beat out an infield hit. Ferriss flied to Judnich. NO RUNS.

FIFTH INNING

BROWNS—Grace grounded out to York. Doerr threw out Stephens. McQuillen singled. Judnich walked. Pesky threw out Christman. NO RUNS.

Doubles by Williams and Doerr featured a five-run Sox attack in the fifth.

Kurowski said the offer, the second he had received, also promised a $20,000 bonus for signing, but that he "definitely was not interested."

Dom Hits .611 From No. 6 in Batting Order

By HUCK FINNEGAN

Refreshed after a 48-hour rest during which they were rained out of their first Sunday double-header in years, the Red Sox picked up their tools today and tried to make it 10 straight wins when they engaged the St. Louis Browns in a double-header at Fenway.

But whether the Sox get past the 10-game mark and go on to equal the A. L. record of 19 straight, this nine-game win streak with which they entered today's double-header is unprecedented in many respects.

For example, they started it Thursday, April 25, with regulars Dom DiMaggio and Hal Wagner missing from the lineup. Culberson played center field the first four winning games while DiMadge rested a charlie horse. Pytlak, who since left the club, caught Joe Dobson when the latter pitched the Sox to a 12-5 win over the Yankees at Fenway Park to set them ablaze.

Yet Cronin didn't hesitate to break up a winning combination when DiMadge was ready to play, and good thing he didn't. For DiMadge, in the last five games, has made 11 hits in 18 times up, batting from the No. 6 slot for an average of .611 and is now leading the league. One of those 11 hits was a home run, three of them doubles.

The younger brother of Joe, a slugger in his own right, never had much chance to prove it when he batted from the lead-off post, as he did in '40, '41 and '42 and as he did when the current season opened. But if Metkovich and Culberson make good in the No. 1 position, Dom may wind up one of the 10 major league slugging leaders as he did among the minors in '39 when with San Francisco.

Another thing: Rookie Eddie McGah stepped in and caught two fine games while Wagner was benched with a sore hand, Pytlak with a sore arm. The Sox, for a change, have good reserve power.

Braves May Make Another Card Deal

ST. LOUIS, May 6—As the Braves await their night game with the Cards here tomorrow night, rumors are rife that Manager Billy Southworth and his free-spending owners Perini Guido and Maney, may land one or two Cardinal pitchers before leaving town.

Manager Eddie Dyer has announced he will retain 12 pitchers. He already has 15 operatives on hand. It's going to be tough, however, doing business with Dyer. Although the Cards are tied with the Dodgers for the lead the Cards haven't shown the steady and resourceful ball expected of them.

Manager Dyer has killed the report that Whitey Kurowski would be sold. He did say, however, that he would consider a trade of equal player value. So far as the Braves are concerned this means Dyer might consider Phil Masi or Tommy Holmes. That's out in Billy Southworth's book. Both boys are too valuable to the Braves' cause to swap them even for a top notcher like Kurowski.

Kurowski himself said here this morning he had rejected an offer of $200,000 to join the Mexican League.

Meanwhile Johnny Sain is to be primed for the arc light test tomorrow night against Freddie Martin. Mort Cooper's superb pitching effort yesterday when he hurled the Braves to a 10 to 4 win over his old mates didn't set well with the 31,000 St. Louis fans who applied constant boohs to their former idol. It begins to look as though Mort had regained his stuff, which means misery to other National League teams.

Johnny Hoop, another ex-Card, did all right by himself with six hits for 13 bases in the two games.

Tobin Launches New City Loop

With Gov. Maurice Tobin scheduled to throw out the first ball, the newly-formed Boston City Baseball League, an affiliate of the Park Department, will launch its 1946 campaign tonight on three Hub playgrounds.

His Honor has accepted the invitation of the Park Department to be on hand at Marcella street playground where the Cassidy Post, American Legion of Roxbury, meets St. Lazarus of East Boston in one of the three opening twi-night tilts.

The other two contests listed for tonight are: Mission Hill vs. Boston Colored Giants at Fens Stadium, Back Bay, and Brighton Catholic Inst. vs. Neponset Town Team at McKenney playground, Brighton. All games start at 6 o'clock.

Goodall Tourney Golf Classic

By BILL GRIMES

In professional golfing circles, an invitation to participate in the Goodall Round Robin tournament is the millennium. The fifth Goodall Round Robin Invitation will be played at the Winged Foot Club, at Mamaroneck, N. Y., starting in the afternoon of May 31 and continuing through June 3. As usual, the field will be limited to 15 professionals, chosen for their proven shot-making ability and sportsmanship.

Playing in three-somes, it requires seven rounds to complete the Round Robin. The championship will be decided on a point system. On each round, the players engage in two matches and the following is an example of how the points are alloted. At the end of 18 holes, "A" is 3 up on "B" and 2 up on "C" and is credited with five points. "B" finishes 1 up on "C" but as he lost 3 down to "A" is minus 2 and "C", who lost 2 down to "A" and 1 down to "B", is minus 3.

From the viewpoint of sustaining the interest of the galleries and also the contestants, there's no tournament comparable with a Round Robin, particularly the Goodall, which always has the cream of the professional crop.

During the 1940 Goodall at Fresh Meadows, Jimmy Demaret, the very likeable Texan, who had burned up the winter league, was in fourth place and plus 3 going into the fifth round. But, when the results of the sixth round were posted, Jimmy was in last place and opposite his name was a large Minus 15. He was off his game for two rounds and paid the penalty.

Sam Snead won the first Goodall Round Robin Invitation at the Cincinnati Country Club in 1938. At the end of the seventh round, "Slammin' Sam" and Gene Sarazen were tied in points but the Connecticut farmer bowed to the West Virginian in the playoffs. The 1939 Goodall was played at Fresh Meadows and Harry Cooper nipped Craig Wood by two points to take over the title. Then, in 1940, little Ben Hogan came up with 10 points in the third round and finished four points up on Snead. Paul Runyan, who couldn't hit a wood shot as far as many of his opponents could a "six iron," outsmarted the Goodall field in 1941 and finished on top.

Although the names of all of the selectees for the coming Goodall have not been made public, the field is completed and will include Dick Burton, the British open champion.

Elmer L. Ward, a former New England amateur champion, who is president of the Goodall Co. has never considered the expense angle in the promotion of Round Robin Invitations. He has always had the best players the professional ranks had to offer. The contestants were brought into Cincinnati, and later to New York from all sections of the country, along with their wives. All of the expenses are defrayed by the Goodall Co. The players are entertained lavishly and royally, at night clubs and theaters, presented with Palm Beach suits and an array of slacks. The Goodall purse is $5000, of which $1000 is awarded to the winner and another $1000 is donated for extra tests, such as long driving contests and exhibitions of accurate shot-making from various distances.

Prior to the Goodall Round Robin at Winged Foot, Byron Nelson and Dick Burton will play the first 18-hole round of their challenge match, which Elmer Ward is sponsoring.

MacPhail Target Plans to Fight

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP)—Ralph Ober of New York, who identified himself as a part time attorney, sports columnist and journalism teacher, said today he was the "John Ohrbar" named by New York Yankee President Larry MacPhail as an agent for the Mexican Baseball League.

MacPhail late Saturday obtained a temporary order, restraining representatives of the Mexican League from approaching Yankee players. A hearing on MacPhail's plea to make the order permanent is scheduled for tomorrow.

In the restraining order MacPhail named a John Ohrbar as an agent of the league.

Ober said he attended a press conference held by Bernardo Pasquel, vice president of the league, last Friday night "strictly as a friend of long standing and in order to gather material for my sports column.

"I have never approached any American baseball player," he continued, "and I feel my character has been publicly attacked by MacPhail. I already have been in touch with my lawyer and plan court action against MacPhail within two weeks."

Hogan and Demaret Beat Nelson-Snead

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., May 6 (AP)—Little Ben Hogan's sharp short game, good for a three under par 67, gave him and Jimmy Demaret a two and one victory over the team of Byron Nelson and Sam Snead in the third of their championship four-ball match series here yesterday.

Hogan and Demaret won the opener in Florida and Nelson and Snead came back to square the series with a victory yesterday in Beaumont, Tex.

Cambridge, Medford Weigh Coaching Jobs

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Attention in schoolboy ranks will be focused on the meetings of the Cambridge and Medford school committees tonight with the possibility of lightning storms striking at both affars as the subjects of football coaches and athletics director come up for what may be their final hearings.

Cambridge officials will continue to work on the appointments of Ted Galligan and John "Tweet" Reardon as grid coaches while ex-coach Tom O'Connor holds the lead in the Medford squabble for a new post as director of athletics.

Tom O'Connor

O'Connor, with a highly creditable war record in the U. S. Navy, has returned to Medford with aspirations toward a new position. The post has been approved but O'Connor's appointment has been bitterly contested in a public squabble that has involved coaches in the high school and even the local citizens. It's too hot to handle without stepping on too many toes!

Five coaches in the school have nominated Johnnie Prior for the post in opposition to O'Connor and Prior's background and record must rate consideration. His Malden Catholic football teams and Medford hockey teams have always been of championship caliber. And he's a popular fellow who may make a stiff fight of it all the way for O'Connor.

Then there's Charlie Donnellan in it to make it a hot, three-way battle down the line!

Superintendant of schools, J. Stevens Kadesch, will have the final word in the matter, his nomination to be presented to the committee tonight when the 10 members will have their vote. And that may be just the beginning of a new tussle in the school ranks.

Shifting to the brighter side of the schoolboy activities, baseball will continue on its merry way toward eventual decisions on entries in the Eastern Championship play at Braves Field next month with the successful Boston English High School the most logical, No. 1 choice at this date. Actually, the Blue and Blue is the only team to have sufficiently removed the opposition to the top of the standings.

Coach Bernie Kilroy's boys had a tremendous time of it last week, eliminating Boston College High and Roslindale from the undefeated ranks in successive days. Then, to top off the performance, English pinned up its third triumph of the week against Tech to pave the way for its 125th anniversary game with Public Latin (Wednesday at Braves Field) with a clean slate.

Newton rates second call on its slim record of two league victories but the Jeff Jones crew will have plenty of battling to take it away from Coach Jack Leary's Waltham crew, knocked off the top while allowing the opposition (Watertown) a single bingle. The pair look as though they'll run 1-2 to the wire.

Stan Musial Real Batting Threat

Judging from the way Stanley Frank Musial has been renewing acquaintances with his pitching "cousins" in the first three weeks of the baseball season, the St. Louis Cardinal's slugging outfielder may become the first big leaguer to attain a .400 batting mark since 1941 and the first National Leaguer to reach those heights in 16 years.

At his present gait, Musial easily will surpass the .406 mark established by Williams for the Red Sox in 1941 and the .401 figure Bill Terry reached in 1930 with the New York Giants.

The classy Cardinal flychaser has been a terror to pitchers from virtually the first day he joined the Redbirds in September of 1941. In a dozen games he rolled up a .426 percentage and two years later he won the batting title with a .357 average. The following year he was runner-up to Brooklyn's Dixie Walker, finishing with .347.

Rip Sewell Recovering From Stroke After Duel

PITTSBURGH, May 6 (AP)—Truett (Rip) Sewell, colorful star pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates, was reported "remarkably improved" today at St. Francis Hospital following what his physician called "a pseudo stroke" yesterday in the team's clubhouse.

Sewell, inventor of the famed "blooper ball" pitch, collapsed in the Pirate locker room shortly after he was replaced on the mound by a relief hurler during the ninth inning of thet first game with Brooklyn.

Dr. J. Huber Wagner described Sewell's illness as "toxic meningitis" and explained: "It's not true meningitis. It's along the order of a heat stroke but there's a possibility of it being infectious in nature. It could have been brought on by exertion or fatigue."

Dr. Wagner, who accompained Sewell to the hospital, added: "I think that when Sewell recovers from this he'll be back in the game."

George Ashton, Pirate property man, said he saw Sewell staggering about the clubhouse but thought it "was one of Sewell's gags" until the pitcher fell forward on his face and cut his cheek on the side of a steel locker.

Eagles Facing Hard Schedule

Fred Maguire's Boston College Eagles will face the toughest period of their 21-game slate starting this week, when they play eight games in ten days with the first scheduled for Wednesday when they will tangle with a strong Providence nine.

Maguire admitted that he fears the Friars as much, if not more than any of the other clubs his charges will face, for they are one of the hardest hitting clubs in New England.

A week ago, the Rhode Island unit belted Holy Cross all over Fitton Field, and every man in the lineup figured in the box score and five of the nine collected more than one hit.

On the 10th, B. C. will journey to Medford to test the Tufts' Jumboes and then for the three days running they will meet Brown at Providence, the Vets' Hospital at Bedford in an exhibition game, and entertain Colby at Alumni Field.

A return engagement with Brown is slated for the 15th, and on the 17th they will entrain for New Haven, where they meet Yale on May 18.

Maguire has named as his starting pitcher for the Providence fray, Bob Blakeney, former A. A. F. air man, who escaped from an Italian prison camp after being shot down over Italy. The lanky right-hander is the fastest man on the B. C. mound staff but this will be his first starting assignment as he has been sidelined with the grippe of late.

Bob Quirk, who is credited with the wins over Amherst and Harvard, will be Maguire's choice for the hill chores against Tufts.

Midget Auto Race Driver Is Killed

CROWN POINT, Ind., May 6 (AP)—One driver was killed and two others were hospitalized today in a series of accidents that marred the first midget auto racing program of the year at Crown Point Fair Grounds.

Peter Nielson, 36, of Milwaukee, was killed in an eliminaiton race. His car overturned as he attempted to avoid two other racers that had locked wheels on the track.

Frank Smith, 32, Chicago, was in a critical condition in Methodist Hospital in Gary of injuries suffered when his car hit a fence during the trials.

Dismal Weather Has Retarded Fishing

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

It appears that the weatherman is not an angler! After a few days that showed promise of improved sport, yesterday came up with more cold rains, dismal and dreary. The few salt water sportsmen who ventured forth, however, discovered that the fish are there, with a warm stretch the tonic needed to start 'em striking. And trout fishermen realize that rising waters in the brooks will aid in filling creels, while many streams that might have been fished out early will be productive over a longer period.

There are plenty of small striped bass in the Weweantic river, most of them under the legal length limit . . . One chap caught 30 yesterday morning, above the bridge at Rose Point, seven too tiny to keep . . . Dick Hunt, of Buzzards Bay, tied into five at the same spot, Saturday, two full-sized. He told us that the stripers weren't hitting when he used a leader, a spinner tied to the hook, with a worm, obtaining best results.

Some parties were in Buttermilk Bay Sunday, seeking flounders, which are averaging about 2½ pounds here. These groups departed after an hour or so, discouraged by the elements, leaving a handful in quest of stripers large enough to bring home . . .

Fred Grant, of Braintree, hooked a 28-inch pickerel Saturday, from Sunset Pond, Braintree. This specie are also being taken in the old dam nearby, off Route 128 . . .

Scores of boats were out in Quincy Bay during the past week, where catches of cod, flounders and pollock have been numerous.

ANGLING ANGLES: There's no stopping anglers who are truly ardent . . . Warden Al Griffin reports that several rods were in action at central Berkshire streams recently, despite a spring snowstorm! He says that it was amusing to watch the men cast flies through the swirling flakes, and the trout—surprisingly enough — hit bucktails, small streamers, and wet flies . . . He adds that Laurel lake is filled with big rainbows, which have yielded only to persistent trollers . . . Arthur Lovely sends word that trout in the Millers river are being taken on Gray Hackle and Cowdung flies . . . Largest trout hooked May 1, opening day in New Hampshire, was a 13½-pound rainbow, snared by Charles Pratt, in Dublin lake. The sport throughout the state was fair. More on this later.

Final meeting of the Huntington ave. YMCA's Fishermen's Clinic takes place tonight, with Ken Richards, bait casting expert, of Gardner, explaining the technique of the art, including the use of plugs, spinners, and live bait.

Assault Pointed for Preakness

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6 (AP)—The y've been saying for a long time now that no dice game or roulette wheel ever was as big a gamble as racing horses, and if there's any lingering doubt about it, take a look at the Texas Kid with the Brooklyn accent—Derby-winner Assault.

The Derby darling with the deformed foot—bred by a Texan in Texas and trained by a Texan, but piloted by a jockey from Flatbush—takes a train ride to Baltimore today, trying to make history repeat.

If he gets the Black-Eyed Sosans at Pimlico Saturday, on top of the roses he won so easily in the 72nd and richest Derby last week-end before the greatest crowd ever to see a horse race in America—more than 100,000—he'll be doing just what his daddy did a decade ago.

But behind the try of this first Texas-born horse ever to take the Derby is the story of all the heartbreak and the gamble that go into breeding and racing a thoroughbred.

Take his daddy, for instance—Bold Venture. Old Bold won the Derby and they said he was lucky, that Brevity was a lot more horse. Bold Venture won the Preakness, too, but just when it looked as if he might go on winning, he broke down and had to retire. Robert J. Kleberg, owner of the cozy million-acre King Ranch in Texas paid M. L. Schwartz $40,000 for him as a stud horse, and folks said that was a lot of cabbage for a horse who just happened to get lucky.

Meantime, a filly whose father was the great Equipoise, was born on King Ranch in 1937. She was called Igual. Her grandmother was Masda, kid sister of the Great Man O' War. That is rich blood, but Igual was so puny and sickly, they even considered destroying her right then. But Dr. J. K. Northway, King Ranch veterinarian, insisted on trying to find out what was wrong and after patient search discovered the trouble. He operated, and Igual began to improve.

She could never race, though, so she was put among the brood mares.

Her third child, by Bold Venture, was Assault. When a year old, Assault hurt his right front foot. The doctors said he might as well be put out of his misery because he'd never recover. But the stable hands liked the grandson of the great Ekky and called in another vet. They told him how much they thought of the little fellow. So the vet took the chance, cut the hoof almost entirely away—and he recovered.

Last Saturday as an 8 to 1 shot, he set off a stick of dynamite at Churchill Downs, laughed at that stretch they call heartbreak highway, and waltzed home by eight lengths. The photographs show he wanted to run so much he pulled the little Brooklyn booter—Warren Mehrtens—clear out of the saddle trying to hold him in along the backstretch.

They paid him $96,400 for the job, and now he has a bankroll

Fore River Strike Called Off

AP Wirephoto

21 Firemen Injured—Overcome by chlorine gas, 21 Kansas City, Mo., firemen were hospitalized today, as an aftermath to the $45,000 fire at an iron warehouse. The fire sent up embers which ignited 12 other fires in the area, including one where flames damaged cylinders of the gas, felling the fire-fighters.

Aided—Injured when a gas billy was shot from his hand during the Alcatraz prison riot, Associate Warden E. J. Miller is treated for face wounds by Dr. Louis Rouchet, U. S. Public Health Service. The prison is quiet today. Three convicts are under heavy guard for aiding in the riot.

Greets General—Arriving with the first contingent of American wives to join their GI husbands in Germany, Mrs. Lucius Clay, wife of Gen. Clay, leans out the window, as the train arrives in Berlin, to greet her husband. Other wives lean out their windows to catch first glimpses of their spouses, whom most have not seen since early in the war years.
